Kevin Perlman
26500 Agoura Rd, STE 102
Calabasas, CA 91302
Kevin@KevinPerelman.com
Date: November 20, 2025

U.S. Department of Justice
Civil Rights Division
950 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20530

Department of Justice

Subject: Request for Investigation — Systemic Civil Rights Violations Under Color of Law (See Attached Detailed Statement)

Dear Civil Rights Division,

I am respectfully requesting the urgent intervention of the Department of Justice due to an ongoing, systemic pattern of civil rights violations perpetrated against me for nearly five decades in Los Angeles County and on a federal level. The attached detailed statement outlines these violations, which involve police misconduct, judicial bias, targeted harassment, and community retaliation—ultimately resulting in continuous and severe damage to my life.

Summary of Key Issues:

- Multidecade campaign targeted harassment, stalking, surveillance, and retaliation orchestrated by law enforcement personnel, court officials, and associated community networks nonstop.
- Nonstop 48 year attempts at entrapment, setups, frame jobs and illegal cover up arrests, with a documented pattern of evidence suppression, biased judicial proceedings, judicial corruption and police refusal to investigate or properly address ongoing violence and intimidation.
- Use of defamatory psychological labels to justify surveillance, stalking, and marginalization, weaponized by family and officials, resulting in economic, social, and reputational harm.
- Exhaustion of local remedies across 24 years, including reports to police, internal affairs, and courts, have led only to increased judicial and police reprisals and worsening threats and operations to my safety and civil liberties.

Request:
Due to the breadth, duration, and gravity, and pre-meditated motive of these abuses, and the complete failure of local accountability mechanisms, I request that the Department of Justice open a formal investigation under 18 U.S.C. §§ 241 & 242 into these ongoing civil rights violations under color of law. I further ask for protection of my rights to due process, safety, accountability and equal treatment under the law.

A small portion of the specific details—including names, case numbers, documentation, and supporting or circumstantial exhibits—are included in the attached comprehensive statement submitted with this cover letter. Additionally, I have compiled over 70 terabytes of photos, videos, audio recordings, screenshots, and other related incriminating evidence, all of which document connected and ongoing events that collectively illustrate the broader pattern of conduct that began 48 years ago involving judicial misconduct and actions by my family.

Thank you for your attention to this grave matter. I am available to provide additional evidence and to cooperate fully with any investigation.

Sincerely,
Kevin Perlman
(Victim / Complainant)

Attachment:

- Brief Overview Statement of Civil Rights Violations
- Detailed Statement of Some Of the Civil Rights Violations (25 pages)
- Violations by Penal Code with everything in this document which is extremely vast for the bigger picture
- Trial Note For 2023 - Trial Appeals Disregarded on all levels with bunk representation as an example of all three cases
- 2023 Trial Notes by Codes
- Daily News Article Proving Gym Manager Rodie Morales and Mike Huntley Manipulating me to sign up to Worlds Gym, While Rodie took me to clubs, and tried to get a Trash bag of LAPD confiscated marijuana in my house as illegal police setup and frame job operations with my family with his schizophrenia tactics and trying to scare me into a coerced false confession – “It’s not like you killed someone, did you”
- Data being organized online for the masses: Cloud.KevinPerelmanTarget.com
- There is a lot more data, but it is difficult to organize by myself. If necessary, Request, and I can provide

Case Numbers and Related Filings

- 3PY03498 (2013)
- LAV636353018 (2017)

- BR053990 (2018)
- LA099813 (2023)
- B343120 (Current Appeal)

Respectfully submitted,
Kevin Perelman

Brief Overview Statement of Civil Rights Violations

I. Introduction

I, Kevin Perlman, am submitting this statement to provide documented examples of the ongoing, coordinated, and systemic violations of my constitutional and civil rights by members of law enforcement, court officials, and affiliated networks. What follows are only a selected series of significant incidents from almost fifty years of continuous stalking, harassment, retaliation, defamation, intimidation, and denial of due process ("color of law" abuses), as defined under 18 U.S.C. §§ 241, 242, and related federal and state statutes.

II. Synopsis of Continuous Harassment and Abuse

Since around the age of five, my life has been marked by constant targeting and surveillance, rooted in family-driven animosity and augmented by professional and official networks. These violations are carried out both publicly and covertly, through:

- Patterned harassment, stalking, and provocation,
- False and defamatory labeling (including unsubstantiated "mental illness", "Criminal", "Behavoral" worldwide defamation),
- Systematic police and court misconduct,
- Community coordination and vigilantism enabled, tacitly or explicitly, by officials since a very young age,
- Obstruction of justice, prosecutorial and judicial manipulation,
- Persistent, retaliatory escalation whenever I seek redress or clarity.

III. Key Examples of Misconduct and Civil Rights Violations

The following events, each supported by separate documentation, illustrate but do not encompass the scope and magnitude of the 48-year ongoing campaign against me.

A. Some Examples of Police Orchestrated Nonstop Entrapment and Arrests

- 2001 "Marijuana Bag" Setup: Known parties including Rodie Morales, Ron Perelman, Mike Huntley, Many Others, in alleged coordination with LAPD personnel, attempted to plant police-confiscated marijuana in my home, seeking to frame me as a drug dealer. I refused involvement and started documenting the events after Rodie Morales Death Threats, linking to Mike Huntley's Judicial Death Threats. Once I could start to process the magnitude of the situation and start to define it.
- Multiple Arrests (Case numbers: LA099813 [2023], 3PY03498 [2013], LAV636353018 [2017]): Each marked by false charges, reversed charges, setup operations by unheard of police and community daily attacks or provoking, operations still going on as we speak, to try to invoke reactions to collect as setup operations. reversal of victim/offender status, suppression of any 911 call, any police report in the hundreds, records and video evidence, audio recordings, photos of proof, and defense counsel collusion with judges and prosecutors, or ineffectiveness. Police and prosecutors systematically erased or ignored complaints and failed to impeach dishonest or violent witnesses, or questions about their behaviors directed at me to invoke reactions nonstop with mass connected police neighborhood watch groups (see attached case dockets).

B. Physical Assaults Ignored or Reversed by Authorities

- Dog Attack Incident: While awaiting an LAPD response to ongoing vandalism with threat messages, I was mauled by a neighbor's police-trained dog. With previous Death Threats "You had better accept what's going on or it will get a lot worse for you" with the neighbors and worldwide groups, and "You're a snitch, your dead" Video, hospital reports, and photographic proof were supplied to Detectives Angela Stewart and Shapiro. The LAPD refused to document or act, or acknowledgement, despite clear video evidence of aggravated assault, hospital reports, and photos of wounds (Penal Code § 245).
- Retaliatory Arrests and Witness Intimidation: After a physical altercation initiated by another individual named Baily Bernard, on my gated property, police arrested me, not the aggressor. Witness intimidation and suppression of exculpatory evidence by defense counsel (failure to subpoena 911 recordings and anything else that could show my innocence) was and is routine.

C. Defamation and "Mental Illness" Labeling for Social Control

- Judicial and police personnel, aided by family members in the psychology/medical fields, have circulated baseless claims of instability or danger to justify surveillance and stalking ("idea-of-reference" tactics, use of community mental health statutes). None of these labels are supported by clinical evaluation and start by an angry family around the age of 5 years old; all serve only to reverse blame and further stigmatize the victim.
- Police/community reports, "informal" networks, and repeated false allegations used to block my access to public accommodations on a global and federal scale.
- Persistent refusal by the LAPD and other authorities to recognize or respond to organized harassment, assaults, battery, attempts on my life, or systematic and ongoing vandalisms, Car Defacings, as well as coordinated group fraud operations resulting in financial theft. This pattern also involves nonstop privacy violations both on and off the Internet, including illegal cell phone tracking conducted by police and their community policing groups through Trojan injections or similar exploits, Wi-Fi access point hacking, and various other technological exploitations. These tactics are used to distort evidence, frame false narratives, and include strategically sending individuals—often women—into my life to create staged encounters for setup and frame job tactics. All of these activities have been documented across numerous venues, cities, and states throughout the United States. And have been nonstop since a very young age.

D. Judicial Bias, Conflicts of Interest, and Due Process Violations

- Judicial Comments and Staff Conflicts: At the Van Nuys Courthouse, Judge Gregory A. Dohi has demonstrated open hostility in the courtroom, notably lashing out in anger when I exercised my Fifth Amendment right, stating, "Since you have nothing to say, you can stay back there," rather than calling me to the bench—an example of judicial misconduct. Judge Stephen A. Marcus has directly threatened to "force me out of my house," displaying clear judicial bias in violation of the Canons of Judicial Ethics and my due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment.

  Court personnel, including court reporters and clerks with direct personal conflicts, have actively spread defamatory narratives, thereby tainting the legal process. For example, Court Reporter Debbie Wollman owns the property adjoining my townhouse wall (while never residing there), and has demanded on video that I "confess" to suffering from schizophrenia—demonstrating personal involvement in judicially driven defamation and harassment campaigns.

  There has also been evidence of intentional trial sabotage: Judge Gregory A. Dohi denied a Pitchess motion for Charles Sean Dinse, despite Dinse's history of using his Facebook account to incite community policing hate groups—behavior for which both he and Chief Michael Moore were previously the subject of federal lawsuits against the City of Los Angeles.

  Clerk and random lawyers connected with Court Reporter Debbie Wollman, harassment has been persistent and pronounced, particularly in the trial courtroom, with clerks attempting to provoke reactions designed to discredit me. Prosecutor Inga Orbelli has presented blatantly false allegations, including claims that I followed Officer Charles Sean Dinse home on a trial day to take his pictures—accusations which were never properly investigated but were freely used to influence Judge Dohi and undermine my defense regardless of the objective evidence of my innocence. Prosecutor Orbelli also coordinated with another officer on a trial day, who falsely identified himself as an FBI agent and attempted to confront me to intimidate the defendant. Just like Charles Sean Dinse coming over to my house in 2017, two weeks before I took the stand putting a personal one inch in the red parking ticket on my car to send me a threat message.

  At no point have any of my defense attorneys—whether private counsel or public defenders—taken steps to impeach prosecution witnesses, introduce photos, video evidence, or any other proof that could establish my innocence or expose the coordinated actions of stalking groups especially to the arresting police officers or detectives involved in these illegal operations. The defense provided has been cursory at best, consistently failing to pursue even basic strategies to challenge the allegations against me. This apparent intentional lack of advocacy has resulted in the least possible defense and, effectively, has ensured an unfavorable outcome in my cases. All lawyers refuse to ever ask or talk about what had happened to form an actual defense argument to fairly represent me and uphold their oath to the California Bar Association.

- Appellate Counsel Issues: The courts have repeatedly denied requests for neutral counsel, assigning attorneys with personal/community ties to opponents and family, denying me effective assistance (Sixth Amendment/Strickland v. Washington).

E. Community Policing, Vigilantism, and Online Campaigns

- Civilian "policing" networks have coordinated with law enforcement to harass, provoke, terrorize, and sabotage my social, economic, and public activities, with the apparent motive of provoking reactions that can be disseminated out of context on a global scale. These individuals, acting under police instruction, routinely escalate situations to the point where any act of self-defense or protest is used to justify arrest. Even your basic protections of Freedom of Speech. Followed by the fabrication of falsified reports designed to present me as the instigator or ongoing threat. This coordinated campaign has impacted approximately 80%, if not more, of my human interactions worldwide—affecting both professional and personal relationships, whether online or in-person. Notably, these operations began when I was around five years old, though I only began to understand their scope in 2001, at age 29. It is extremely rare that I'm not provoked by any individual daily, with these Internet based coordinated stalking events.

- Repeated vandalism, threats ("You'd better accept what's going on, or it will get worse for you," etc.), and provocation efforts, documented and reported multiple times.
- Documented Facebook campaigns, public postings by officers and their community policing groups worldwide (such as Charles Sean Dinse), and known community-policing programs have riled up large groups to target, defame, and isolate me.

IV. Exhaustion of Local Remedies

All appropriate channels—including LAPD Internal Affairs, court filings, community advisories, and direct complaints—have resulted in either (a) a lack of meaningful investigation, (b) document falsification or misrepresentation, or (c) increased retaliation and reprisal. Despite persistent efforts, I have been unable to obtain impartial relief or even basic protection under California or federal law. This pattern of unsuccessful redress also extends to private citizens, such as private investigators working in coordination with the police, whose efforts have focused on silencing or further isolating me rather than addressing the underlying issues for the most basic jobs.

V. Context: Only a Fraction Represented Here

It is crucial to emphasize that the events outlined above and the supporting evidence attached represent only a fraction of my daily reality. These are illustrative examples for review and not even close to the total scope, scale, or intensity of abuses, which persist at all times and in all areas of life. I possess over 70 Terabytes of incriminating evidence, from Photos, Video, Screen Shots, Audio Recordings, Documentation, detailed written histories, names, and locations of involved parties, and additional corroboration, should further investigation be pursued.

VI. Legal Basis and Cited Statutes

- Ongoing misconduct constitutes violations of:

- 18 U.S.C. § 241 (Conspiracy against rights),
- 18 U.S.C. § 242 (Deprivation of rights under color of law),
- Fourteenth Amendment (Due Process, Equal Protection),
- Sixth Amendment (Right to Fair Counsel),
- California Penal Code §§ 182 (conspiracy), 245 (assault with deadly weapon), and related sections. See Attached:

- Patterns also violate federal anti-harassment, anti-stalking, and anti-defamation precedents.

VII. Closing

The examples provided are sufficient to demonstrate credible patterns of rights abuses warranting federal investigation. I urge the DOJ to view this as a small sample, representing a far more widespread and organized campaign.

Case Numbers and Related Filings

- 3PY03498 (2013)
- LAV636353018 (2017)
- BR053990 (2018)
- LA099813 (2023)
- B343120 (Current Appeal)

Respectfully submitted,
Kevin Perelman

Detailed Statement of Some Of the Civil Rights Violations (25 pages)

Kevin Perlman
26500 Agoura Rd, STE 102
Calabasas, CA 91302
Kevin@KevinPerelman.com

Date: October 27, 2025

U.S. Department of Justice
Civil Rights Division
950 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Ishington, DC 20530

Subject: Request for Federal Investigation — Ongoing Civil-Rights Violations Under Color of Law

Section 1: Introduction & Request

I, Kevin Perelman, respectfully submit this detailed, updated statement as part of my formal complaint to the U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. This document provides a comprehensive, representative—though still partial—overview of the severe, ongoing, and systemic civil rights violations I have endured and continue to face primarily in Los Angeles County, California, and related jurisdictions. My allegations concern not only persistent misconduct and abuse of authority, but also the deliberate, multi-decade targeting and marginalization by law enforcement, judicial officers, appointed counsel, clerks, and widespread, organized community policing networks and the defamation of character to my name and reputation on a global scale.

These violations are rooted in events spanning nearly fifty years, from early childhood to the present. Over this time, I have been subjected to ongoing, exponentially growing and escalating coordinated harassment—including actions by anonymous strangers, provocation, instigation, threats, and defamation on an unprecedented scale—as well as repeated deprivation of due process. These actions have resulted in ongoing denials of the protections guaranteed under the United States Constitution—specifically the rights to equal protection, fair legal proceedings, and freedom from retaliation or abuse under color of law enabling these groups, as protected by the Fourteenth and Sixth Amendments, and 18 U.S.C. §§ 241 and 242.

Purpose of This Statement

The factual examples, names, events, and supporting materials provided in this document represent only a minute portion of the ongoing pattern of abuse. They are not exhaustive, but have been selected for their clarity, direct impact on my rights and safety, and evidentiary value. Extensive further documentary, video, and audio evidence, witness statements, and a chronology of events are available upon request or at the outset of a federal investigation.

Summary of Request

I respectfully request that the Department of Justice:

- Open a formal investigation into the ongoing civil rights violations committed against me under color of law, and review all documentation, video, audio, and records referenced herein.
- Provide urgent protection and oversight for my basic constitutional rights, safety, and fair treatment under the law.
- Take all necessary action to ensure an impartial review, accountability, and the cessation of retaliatory acts by officials, community members, and related networks who have been complicit in these abuses.

Supporting Documentation

The sections that follow will provide chronologies and representative examples of the nonstop harassment, including the names of individuals involved, specific incidents, direct quotations, Law Enforcement and legal misconduct, and supporting references—demonstrating the scope, continuity, and seriousness of these violations.

2. Continuous Pattern of Harassment, Defamation, and Retaliation

For more than twenty-four years, since finding out, I have experienced directed hostility and interference on a near-daily basis especially from the police—while leaving my home, driving, or engaging in ordinary public activity. The consistency, coordination, and repetition of these encounters indicate an organized and continuing course of conduct, not random or coincidental events.

Although the conduct is most visible in Los Angeles County since I am living here, similar patterns have followed me across multiple cities and states, exposing participation by interconnected global community-policing programs and affiliated civilian networks based on mental illness labeling used as a justification, that share information and coordinate behavior. These activities appear to operate outside formal oversight, yet with the tacit cooperation of certain officials who treat them as extensions of community safety initiatives.

Throughout this period, and since a young child, defamation and stigmatizing narratives have been used to maintain their hostility. Members of these informal networks—together with individuals in the police, and mental-health communities—have circulated non-official, unverified mental-health labels, portraying me as someone who thinks differently, is unstable, dangerous, or unpredictable. They've used nonstop changing labels, such as obsession, paranoia, schizophrenia, that are merely justification for them o go out and commit these crimes in the name of mental illness. These labels have no clinical basis and have been applied without any legitimate evaluation other than angry family members who are riling up the masses with the police, serving only to justify continued surveillance, public provocation, and exclusion from normal life.

This misuse of psychological terminology and community-policing structures has riled the public against me and erased the factual record of repeated victimization. Rather than acknowledge the harm caused by years of daily harassment, defamation, and civil-rights violations, those responsible have attempted to recast their actions as justified intervention, using false labels and reversing the situations to conceal misconduct and avoid accountability.

As a result, I have been deprived of normal social interaction, employment opportunities, and personal safety in nearly every environment I enter. This amounts to a persistent, nationwide civil rights violation carried out under color of law, driven by both worldwide defamation efforts and coordinated community policing programs. These groups employ daily provocation and harassment tactics—aimed at removing me from society by orchestrating setup operations designed to elicit reactions, providing police with repeated pretexts for arrest, and manufacturing the appearance that I do not belong in society. These actions serve as cover-ups for underlying hatred and further reinforce false narratives of hypersensitivity to justify continued exclusion.

3. Early 2000s Events and Coordinated Setup Attempts with Mike Huntley and Mass Groups

The origins of my discovery of this campaign trace back to the early 2000s, though the behaviors began long before by almost every person in my life since a very young age. My long-time acquaintance Mike Huntley with Paul Humphrey, originally my brother Jason Perelman's friend, whom I had known since age 14—Both conduits to Jason Perelman, began orchestrating a series of manipulative and psychological events that evolved into organized setup and frame-job operations. Realizing this after his death threats with the LAPD in 2001 while he with my manager Rodie Morales, from Worlds Gym, Mike Huntley wanted me to sign up to with him, were trying to plant a trash bag of police confiscated marijuana in my house to try to frame me as a drug dealer with LAPD. Just one of many countless setup and frame job attempts nonstop before and after finding out. As I was starting to notice something was very wrong with my life.

At that time, I had returned from the University of Colorado after being manipulated by Mike Huntley, working with my family, to start a company with him called Signet-e Services. He had lured me back under the guise of business opportunity, but the intent is and was control. Several years after returning, I began noticing severe privacy violations on and off the Internet and abusive, coordinated behaviors by Mike Huntley and those around him. However, these circles were much larger.

One day in the office, while I is developing a website database architecture flow for a client, Mike Huntley noticed my expression change as I typed my own name into Google and saw unfamiliar content being offloaded—material that had been taken from my work computer and uploaded to AOL accounts using screen names similar to one of mine with ending variants. Moments later, the computer suddenly shut down on its own. It became clear that a remote Trojan was installed and that someone was monitoring my activity in real time as Mike routed the network switch to the next door office of Golden State Sports Medical, my fathers office with his employees.

Mike Huntley watched my reaction while the other people in our office were playing similar spy game tactics, such as Tim Thompson mimicking back my online chats to me from previous conversations with a girl named Christina Stahlinsky within hours apart and asked, “Is everything okay?”—the moment he had waited for since entering my life fifteen years earlier. When I asked him what is going on, his demeanor turned psychotic and disturbingly playful and deranged. He began singing “World of Paranoia” over and over while walking around the office in a psychotic manor, while placing on my desk an article about using mental-illness tactics to control or eradicate people in South Korea, then said:

“We are using the judicial system against you.”
“Have a good life now.”
“You had better live a careful life.”
“You are too out of control for California.”
“It’s your behavior.”

He even quoted Crocodile Dundee (1986):

He said, “it’s like the movie Crocodile Dundee”

“Nah – back there, if you got a problem, you tell Wally, and he tells everyone in town … brings it out in the open … no more problem.”

The message is unmistakable—he is defaming me worldwide to control and silence me.

Looking back, I now trace these computer privacy violations to at least 1994, when my brother Jason Perelman would frequently call me with updates about Internet technology and direct me to websites like Ifriends.com and many others with privacy violations—while collaborating with strangers to stalk me both online and offline during my time at the University of Colorado in the 1990s. Jason would eagerly encourage me to “explore the Internet,” introducing me to college friends such as Mike Wexler and Jason Baum, all as part of broader setup and frame job schemes involving the Colorado Police Department. I was manipulated into environments designed to build angry stalking mobs against me. Even early social groups on technologies like IRC (Internet Relay Chat) were directed to engage in setup or frame job operations across the United States. This was especially pronounced at social IRC parties or through relationships I formed, where dating or making friends quickly led to the creation of worldwide online hate networks—an experience unique to me that no one else seemed to endure. Even then, the same psychological manipulation tactics were taking shape: gaslighting through technology, coordinated disinformation campaigns, and the orchestration of mass stalking groups by the police, the judicial system, and my family. My brother Jason Perelman was already fabricating stories from my earliest years, falsely accusing me of harming him and working with the police, and psychology community no matter where I am at and with these groups to provoke me from childhood onward so he could later twist the narrative against me. This continuous cycle of false accusations and orchestrated emotional traps has rotated from one participant to another—family, friends, police, and community members—relentlessly for nearly five decades.

The manipulations, harassment, and provocation strategies used against me have varied widely over the years, but consistently share a few defining features: coordination among multiple individuals, repetition of specific behaviors, and the creation of false or misleading narratives about my mental health and character. These behaviors have included, but are not limited to, repeated "coincidental" references and orchestrated scenarios—such as inviting me to social gatherings where movies or cultural materials were purposefully referenced or quoted out of context, in apparent attempts to suggest to onlookers that my reactions were abnormal or unstable.

While these tactics may at first seem subtle or insignificant in isolation, my experience—supplemented by extensive video and audio recordings—demonstrates a consistent and escalating pattern. This pattern is further corroborated by the actions of law enforcement officers and other authority figures, who have relied upon second-hand reports or rumors to justify repeated intervention, mental health referrals, or criminal complaints against me. At no point has there been any independent or legitimate diagnosis of mental illness; rather, my family and affiliated individuals with backgrounds in psychology have employed these labels as a means of social exclusion and reputational harm.

I respectfully acknowledge that describing these coordinated behaviors may, to some, sound implausible or suggestive of paranoia. However, I am prepared to provide substantial objective evidence—recordings, witness statements, and corroborating documentation—to establish the factual basis for my complaint. The labeling I have experienced is not medical in nature; it is intended as a smokescreen for exclusionary, retaliatory, and at times unlawful conduct. In fact, efforts to question or challenge these narratives are frequently met with further escalation, including threats and retaliatory police action, as documented by various incidents and communications.

This ongoing campaign is not the result of isolated misunderstandings, but a deliberately executed effort to manufacture a reputation for mental instability for purposes of social isolation, legal jeopardy, and deprivation of civil rights. The apparent goal is to provoke nonstop, and never ending emotional responses or defensive conduct which can then be mischaracterized as evidence of instability, thus creating a self-perpetuating basis for further targeting and exclusion.

I now recognize that these same tactics had been operating since Mike Huntley entered my life at 14, alongside another individual, Paul Humphrey, who worked for the LAPD and private security companies at one point and linking back to Jason Perelman—connecting him directly to many of the same behaviors I later witnessed and realized were always going on since a young child. Jason Perelman was originally friends with Joe Humphrey in his High School class at Calabasas High, and Mike Huntley was originally Jason Perelman's friend as well. At first, I thought it was an elaborate joke, but it soon became clear that it was not. The scale of these enormous stalking groups anger, hatred, and privacy violations—both on and off the Internet—is far beyond ordinary experience. As a matter of fact, it's unheard of. It is an organized intelligence-style operation, blending police participation with community "policing" networks. Phones are tracked, computers infiltrated, friends or working on setups, frame jobs and disinformation to the largest groups possible, and every personal moment observed and twisted to manufacture pretexts of instability, mental illness, or danger which is disseminated to mass anonymous groups. The more crimes that are committed against me, the more widespread the lies become, with others and LAPD reversing the truth by claiming that I am the one responsible for what they actually started when I was around 5 years old, and found out at 29 years old in 2001 while they were trying to plant their drugs in my house for illegal arrests with the Perelman family, in order to cover up everything they have done to my life.

After leaving California to attend Southern Oregon State College, which seemed to enrage them and my family even more. Then transferring to the University of Colorado, similar events continued at both locations. My brother Jason Perelman maintained contact there, introducing me to his friends—Mike Wexler, Jason Baum, and others working with Colorado Police showing that the Perelman families Hatred while paying off or coercing the police is unprecedented. At no point did the police refuse to participate in the stalking operations, which demonstrates that they are aiding and abetting a crime of unprecedented magnitude and scale. This also explains why my permanent disappearance appears to be their motive—so that there will be no incriminating evidence left, or a voice to their wrong doings, of their 48-year crime spree against me. In these same types of operations while I was focused on an education for my future—who later connected back to Mike Huntley with the Police. Eventually, under the direction of Ron Perelman (my father) and through pressure from my family, Mike Huntley manipulated me into returning to California. While my family was reeling me closer and closer to work on me with their setup operations and frame jobs. He did this by presenting visionary technology ideas and encouraging me to start an Internet hosting provider and web design company. Once I did, he placed himself in constant proximity and urged me to join World's Gym with him, where he worked with manager Rodie Morales and angry Gym mobs, Just like Paul Humphrey was doing on and off the Internet, With ties to the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD). At one point, Paul Humphrey even joined LAPD with someone the women they were sending into my life stalking me. This positioned Morales to observe and engage me directly. Eventually, after his luring me into his life on a friendship level, I began noticing some of their coordinated provocations and manufactured incidents meant to imply wrongdoing on my part. Rodie Morales was told to take me to clubs where women were waiting for me so they could cry wolf and say I was obsessed with them or crazy to make these illegal police, family and psychology community operations look legit and fabrications about stalking random anonymous people, or somehow doing something to them with disinformation and motive that I needed to get help and am crazy. Obviously, these fabrications change from person to person until I no longer exist in society. This was actually going on at Worlds Gym as well. Around the same time, he offered me a trash bag of Police Confiscated Marijuana. I didn't know where it came from at the time, but I didn't want it. Later to find out he was working with LAPD to try to plant it in my house to frame me as a drug dealer for possession of large amounts of drugs. With Mike Huntley and the Perelman Family.

Evidence shows that these activities are not isolated acts by private individuals but are coordinated, nonstop, across 48 years, and still going on as we speak. among my family members, Mike Huntley, and LAPD contacts. They formed an early pattern of collusion between personal associates and law-enforcement personnel. The tactics—entrapment attempts, rumor circulation, and psychological manipulation—mirror the same methods that have persisted for over five decades, spanning California, Oregon, Colorado, with city wide communities until 1994 escalating into worldwide communities once the Internet came to be with these illegal police operations, and virtually every place I have traveled or pretty much have been since a very young age and Police monitoring from an abusive family disseminating endless defaming which continue at this present moment, with their hate and control issues.

This period marks the point when I began to fully recognize that what had begun in childhood within my own family had evolved into a continuing, institutionalized effort to manufacture criminal or behavioral pretexts under color of law—while concealing the true nature of the worldwide daily judicial attacks and defamation through false narratives, selective documentation, and systemic complicity.

Among the many documented incidents over the years, one example involved my father and members of the LAPD staging a shooting event in approximately 1988, wherein a bullet hole appeared in his 300e Mercedes. At the time, I was learning about automotive repair and engine building, and this incident was subsequently attributed to me amongst the populist, not the police, to rile the masses against me, despite a lack of evidence, as part of an ongoing pattern of false allegations. In another calculated operation, a woman named Victoria Walker was directed to give me a toy gun for my 30th birthday in front of my father, I believe he was trying to invoke the appearance of guilt. This was used with my father to imply guilt about their staged events to try to create the appearance of mental illness to lock away. Another incident with my father was asking me if his ex-girlfriend Maria Elena could clean my house, because she needed money. At one point my father approaches me as she finds the toy gun asking me why I have a gun. Showing that my father is doing whatever it takes to try to make his child look like a violent paranoid schizophrenic out of hatred for his child. There are countless incidences that don't make sense with gun tactics and those helping my father on this theme since 16 repeatedly once I started working on cars, and his anger for me buying a 426 hemi in which he also made up lies that I supposedly stole 10,000k to buy it in the name of control. These incidents are illustrative of a broader and longstanding pattern—dating back to early childhood—in which family members, associates, and law enforcement have fabricated allegations or contrived situations relating to criminality or mental illness. The apparent purpose has been to justify increased surveillance, intervention, and public discrediting, perpetuating a continuous campaign of provocation and attempted exclusion from society.

5. Assaults, Battery Attempts, and Reversed Arrests

Several physical assaults, threats, and coordinated law-enforcement encounters have been either minimized, dismissed, or reversed against me in the so called name of mental illness.

One particularly severe incident involved a neighbor who issued repeated verbal threats—including statements such as "You'd better accept what's going on or it will get a lot worse for you," and "You're a snitch—you're dead." The individual kept what appeared to be a police-trained K-9 capable of attacking on command. Video footage of the dog being picked up by an LAPD unit. During one confrontation, the dog mauled my leg on cue, causing deep lacerations that required hospital treatment. This is while I was waiting for LAPD to come out from a call because they had vandalized my car putting gloves on it, glueing sparkles on it amongst other things, with their OJ Simpson hints and similar abusive detrimental teases they do in nonstop repetition that impede on your ability to have a normal life, and writing Penal Code 187 all over it. Linking to a girl named Victoria Walker sent into my life about 10 years prior trying to cover up their crimes against me with LAPD. LAPD has continually taken DNA tests to try to silence or intimidate me. And the Daily News Article States, Rodie Morales working with LAPD to catch someone who has killed someone. Who fled here from a different country. The entire event is captured on video, and I provided detective Angela Stewart and Detective Shapiro with the video footage of the incident, photographs of the injury, and copies of the hospital report. Despite this, both detectives falsely stated that nothing had occurred just like all the other countless incidences on every level, and refused to document the assault, effectively erasing the record and denying me protection. There's no possible reason to deny protection, especially if I really did suffer from mental illness.

In another case, Bailey Bernard followed me home from a local park mad at me for having an opinion about their nonstop harassment and provoking groups, asking, "Is this where you live?" As I entered my gated townhouse property, he knocked the keys from my hand and initiated a physical altercation. I immediately called 911 and later went to the police station to file a report. Instead of protecting the victim, LAPD arrested me, reversing the charges.

During trial, Prosecutor Kareen T. Phillips falsely claimed that I never called 911, while my privately retained defense attorney Seymour Amster refused to subpoena the 911 call records that would have proven my account. He also declined to introduce the conduct of the arresting Officer Charles Sean Dinse, a witness, who, in connection with the same case, and all three arrests trying to silence me about what they started when I was a young child, came to my residence and placed a parking citation on my truck for being approximately one inch into a red zone. This contact—occurring just two weeks, before testimony of a case he is the arresting officer and witness in—this constituted witness intimidation, but defense attorney Seymour Amster refused to raise it, just like all the other lawyers. Amongst countless other events. And like usual, in three cases, witnesses, especially Police Officers, are never impeached on the stand, to intentionally lose winnable cases. Not even questions about their behavior or trying to provoke reactions on any level with their community policing and neighborhood watch group members. Especially with the amount of proof I have audio, video, and photos of these nonstop daily attacks which have been exponentially growing since a very young age as they are told, and enabled to do it. To protect their community policing groups acting as LAPD told and in their name.

In a separate set of incidents, Lead Officer Charles Sean Dinse, of Topanga Division, Community Police Station who is involved in 3 illegal arrests and trials who is clearly protected by a riled up United States mob driven by LAPD against me based on endless police fabrications. Some of which is that I'm supposedly a public nuisance, switching and changing from fabrication to fabrication since a young child. Who is working with their local community policing groups and posting me on his Facebook account riling the masses against me, with he and Chief Michael Moore's local community-policing associates, is recorded on video while on my property and at my residence with other officers, stating on camera, "Check to see if the door is unlocked." The footage shows an attempted entry without warrant or cause. On another occasion, following an incident in which local community-policing participants tried to manipulate me into harassing a homeless individual in a public restroom at the Warner Center Park, Officer Dinse, returned to my property with another officer impersonating an FBI agent the next morning, again captured on video. Both incidents demonstrate deliberate attempts to provoke confrontation, setup, frame, create false pretexts, or establish grounds for arrest or mental-health intervention cover ups as he is being protected by the Judges at Van Nuys courthouse with these illegal operations to stalk, setup, frame, assault and batter people with community members. As any possible reaction in self-defense from the victims such as myself will lead to reversed charges and arrests. Even opinions and statements about people being lied to about my name and reputation. Charles Sean Dinse Posts articles on his Facebook account stating such things like. "We need to stop those partiers from throwing parties before it happens" Due to noise disturbances. Similar to their Pre-Crime and Mental Illness labeling agendas to remove those they don't like or are afraid of, before anything ever happens. Bypassing all law, order, Constitutional Protections and civil rights.

Charles Sean Dinse posts on his Facebook account, the same one I'm on, while riling the masses against me. Just he did to Rex Schellenberger the city of Los Angeles with Charles Sean Dinse, Chief Michael Moore, Rex Schellenberger, vs California. For similar crimes on a much smaller scale. Dinse posts Los Angeles times articles about forcing people into mental facilities on his quest to clean up the streets and create perfect neighborhoods on his Facebook account in which I fit in that criteria from his falsified mental illness labeling. A random lawyer even stated to me that he had been spotted on anti-homeless forums exposing some of his illegal agendas and operations to "Exercise the law in his own way" based on his ideologies, and not law and order. Similar to officer Toro's Death Threats in Encino California with their coffee shop crime spree cover ups.

Taken together, these examples demonstrate a sustained pattern of provocation, reversal, and official deception—in which evidence of violence or misconduct against me is ignored or suppressed for their illegal operations, while fabricated narratives are used to justify further harassment and criminalization. These acts constitute retaliation and civil-rights violations under color of law, denying me both protection and due process.

Despite multiple written complaints and extensive video documentation, Internal Affairs repeatedly minimized, re-characterized, or dismissed my reports rather than investigating the mass crime spree against me, and ignored the pre-meditated falsified, or overdramatized complaints as legitimate misconduct. As people are told to continually call the police with newer fabrications. No matter where I'm at, random anonymous groups conspiring with law enforcement with an agenda to eradicate at all costs. This has been non stop my entire life even though I wasn't aware of it.

In one example from 2013 in Encino, an LAPD officer who stated his name was officer Toro—working in coordination with Aubrey Fisher, a woman introduced to me by Rodie Morales—issued a direct threat, stating: "If you ever take a picture of a person, I will exercise the law in my own way." The hostility in this encounter stemmed from family-driven resentment over my participation in hobbies, careers, or social life, such as photography, Art, Pool Tournaments, College Educations, Gyms, Drinking Coffee or Coffee Shops, Car Enthusiast, Using the Internet, and pretty much anything else outside a cage, which my family has long used as pretexts for organized harassment. According to them, all these normal venues are either considered crimes, or dangerous groups or reckless and out of control, where one can be labeled as a criminal or statements about my behavior. Example, jogging, dating, humor, emotion, taking walks, or lifting weights is a behavioral mental illness if I go out and do any of it. But it's ok for everyone else. The incident coincided with a broader narrative that I am "not allowed" in public places, expressed through defamation like "Kevin's kind is not allowed at coffee shops worldwide." Or the worldwide "No relaxing for you nigger" death threat and attacks at every public place which is linked to me kissing a black girl when I was 8 years old and anger from the black community about it since 1980 which doesn't make much sense on the surface. But the question of how this data is going worldwide, and especially before the Internet even existed. Is the only real question of importance from situation to situation. And somehow the world has been told I'm racist or antisemitic because of it. This is the real agenda, to lock a 5 year old in a cage, and never let him see light or human beings ever again. And it doesn't really seem to be about anything else but using psychology as a weapon for the predators to get what they want out of personal hate. However, what started with LAPD and my family when I was a young child, is something that LAPD will not let come to light no matter what it takes.

On one of these countless scenarios on and off video. I was documenting the Coffee Shop employees coordinated provokings in which I am told no one knows of me, and I'm imagining everything that is going on which we all know to be untrue, on these daily interactions of hate, anger and rage towards me. When the Starbucks employee realized about 15 random coffee shops that day were on video provoking me with the same verbal tactics from the employees in their repetition mimic tactics. They called Lead Officer Charles Sean Dinse, ringleader of a lot of these LAPD illegal and Judicial operations fabricating statements that I walked in and supposedly threatened to kill all Starbucks customers. However, on the video which I'm forced to put online. Shows the opposite like everything else. There is nothing I did but be as nice as can be, and simply try to buy a coffee like everyone else. Yet, LAPD is not angry at them for their behavior, they are angry at me, for having proof of their crimes on video and an opinion of nonstop criminal activities against me wherever I go trying to cover them up, all the way down to early childhood.

These provocations are consistent with a recurring pattern: family disapproval triggers widespread community-policing activity, during which coordinated civilian and law-enforcement participants attempt to provoke reactions daily as I'm guessing, starting in 1977 when I was around 5 years old, and exponentially growing since then, to generate reports, or fabricate behavioral concerns. When I have sought to document or report these incidents, officers have routinely refused to take proper reports, instead framing my actions as "overreactions" or "mental instability." And protecting the angry mass mobs they have riled against me since a very young age destroying my name and reputation worldwide.

Internal Affairs' oversight responses have consistently portrayed these matters as issues of sensitivity rather than misconduct, ignoring credible evidence of threats, coordination, and retaliation no matter how aggressive the escalation. This practice has enabled officers and participants to act with impunity, turning legitimate First Amendment–protected activities such as photography, hobbies, social engagement, work, artistic expression, freedom of speech, asking for police assistance to stop it into grounds for harassment, arrest, false psychological labeling, or worse.

The result is a systemic feedback loop in which disapproval and bias are converted into official justification through mental-health narratives—allowing continued violations under color of law while concealing the original and ongoing misconduct that prompted the complaints while enabling these mass groups with the police to progressively get worse, and worse with their criminal activities.

4. Countless Vehicle Vandalisms and Police Non-Response

Countless acts of vandalism have been documented with photos, video and correspondence, especially after buying a corvette in 2020, with my families anger and rage over me doing something positive with the Police. Rotating community groups, in multiple cities in coordination. Especially the locations I am stationary at. Police repeatedly refused or rewrote or watered down reports while keeping them modular to make sure that there is nothing showing the nonstop repetition of crimes against me, erasing the paper trail and enabling continued harassment without accountability. Especially with the mass United States based auto conspiracy of auto shops to try to provoke me to death, trying to get reactions with the police, while trying to steal as much money as possible and destroy the corvette. Probably investing in over $60,000.00 in an auto conspiracy to make sure it never runs again with Family, LAPD Police, and psychology community involvement. Under the notion that Kevin is reckless, out of control, and crazy. However, in 53 years nothing has happened other then the Perelman Families opinion with their Judicial and LAPD friends under he pretenses that they are going to stop the crimes before they happen. Showing that this is not about law and order, but abuse of power. And justifications to commit crimes against people by removing all their freedoms from empty opinions or labeling.

Video footage, audio recordings at hotels, business, almost every human interaction all across the entire United States. While documented the mass history of stalking in the 90's at university of Colorado on video. Which has further enraged certain LAPD personnel during the subsequent arrests, resulting in additional hostility and threats. For example, I received death threats such as, "You had better accept what is going on or it will get a lot worse for you," from individuals associated with these coordinated campaigns—including the person with a police-trained K9 who attacked and injured my leg.

I've probably documented over a hundred cases of car vandalism, tampering, defacement, notes left on my vehicles from rotating anonymous strangers — you name it. And it doesn't stop there. Auto shops across the country have taken turns doing the same tactics: fix one thing, break something else, lie about repairs, or push bogus issues. Something as simple as plugging a tire with a screw in it turns into shop after shop telling me I "need new wheels.". Lies that I need new transmission for simply trying to get a key fob programmed for a few dollars. Car tampering, loosening bolts. Every place, same script, same escalation tactics. Same verbal harassment and provokings, Done in repetition to try to escalate violence with the Police.

Ever since I bought the Corvette, this pattern has escalated in almost every shop nationwide. However, this was going on as far back as when I was 16 in 1988, with my father working with auto shops and mechanics as well. My father, Ron Perelman, was making up fabrications that I had stolen $10,000 from him to buy a 426 HEMI to put into a 1971 Barracuda. Or getting me jobs at Star Auto haus Mercedes while working with employees to throw wrenches at me and loosen the lug nuts, telling me it's Chuck Norris's car and to drive it home to him. At the time, I didn't realize these were nonstop, worldwide connected events. The very first incident of the corvette? A simple computer oil pressure hiccup after an oil change at from John Elway Cheverelet, suddenly became "you need a new engine." From that moment on, no shop would fix anything correctly. No matter where I go, I'm hit with the same situation over and over. While there are too many incidents on the drive across the United States alone after buying the corvette. Three hotels in Denver, Colorado in a week or two all claimed I had not paid my hotel bills in Colorado Police Setup operations while I believe trying to get my belongings with the John Elway Receipts from the Hotel Room. Of course, like usual, Police reports were filed by me. But the police were mad at me for doing the right thing. Showing a coordinated operation to remove me from society for no reason out of someone's hate for me with their Judicial friends.

And it's not just mechanical sabotage. I get the same verbal provokings and scripted provocations from employees at these shops — the same lines, the same tone, the same bait, the same harassments. Just like every restaurant, coffee shop, every person I associate with provoking and blasting lies, or women I date told to do the same thing, at almost evert public venue, person or place, all across the United States — all designed to escalate situations into police setups. It's a coordinated routine aimed at pushing reactions, labeling me mentally ill, and using that as a cover to justify attempts to remove me from society because of someone's personal hatred. And escalated from Lead Officer Charles Sean Dinse, and his Facebook accounts and their community policing programs to stop the crimes before they happen.

7. Labeling and Entrapment Attempts

Officers at the LAPD Topanga Division—such as Officer Lee—and many other Police Officers on their rotating lies and false labeling with their criminal and psychological allegations, have labeled me a "chronic police-report taker." Over time, mental-health terminology has been used as a substitute and cover-up for legitimate investigations due to the fact that it will point back to them. Early frame job attempts, including the 2001 marijuana-bag incident, are later distorted to imply criminal behavior. I trace these tactics nonstop all the way down to 1977. Either it's operations to create the appearance of Mental Illness, or setups and frame jobs to make me look like a criminal. The motive is clear, To eradicate at all costs since a young child.

These events have been continuous since childhood. My daily life has often revolved around avoiding aggressive confrontations from strangers—people who lash out in anger or attempt to exploit, sabotage, provoke, or financially, or physically harm me. However these aren't random events. For every situation that occurs, It is linked to the next person in communication with the previous Judicial network terror cells. This pattern of provocation is nonstop, never-ending, persistent and deliberate with pre-meditation. And it isn't going to stop until they get what they want with their obsessed psychotic issues and mental illness cover up labels.

Family members have also made ambiguous, accusatory statements with refusal of explanation:

- My father, Ron Perelman, has stated, "You know what you did," while refusing to provide specifics.
- Anita Perelman has stated, "Your past caught up with you," "Go to a therapist and tell them everything", in an angry voice, again without clarification.
- Gerrett, Starbucks Employee around 2004, Topanga and Ventura Starbucks Woodland Hills, has threatened, "It's your transgressions" with their daily provokings and attacks at almost all coffee shops worldwide to try to get reactions as Police setup operations.

These nonstop setup operations with cover ups will go all the way down to early childhood.

Even a security guard, John Paul Naranjo of Boyds and Associates Security (a job once held by Paul Humphrey at that same location before finding out in 2001), is allegedly paid to assault me with the Starbucks Corporation for speaking out about the daily attacks they are involved in and won't stop, and buying a coffee and sitting down and trying to relax—striking me in the back of the head around seven times in what appeared to be an attempt to cause severe injury or death. He was also mad at me because I took a photo of the Starbucks Defaming Paperwork with fabrications, because I had proof of their defamation of character. Once again, the LAPD downplayed and minimized the police report related to this incident. And refusal to investigate or even admit to the nonstop events against me.

Nearly every police report I've filed has contained false or misleading information—omissions, distortions of what constitutes a crime, and intentional downplaying of patterns of harassment, vandalism, assault and battery, attempts on my life (Girl on video trying to slice me with a knife), and threats. Instead of addressing the ongoing situation as a whole, reports have been watered down and isolated, ignoring the daily provocations and assaults that form a clear pattern of organized community policing, targeting operations.

Example Worldwide defamation from neighbors, one named Yuka states on the Google blogs to the world, "If you see Kevin, call the police, he is a Violent Paranoid Schizophrenic". This is the Charles Sean Dinse, defamation and stalking group which is a federal operation to eradicate me at all costs.

Yet, I have no clue who this Yuka even is, and we have never had any type of interactions showing that the fabrications from one to he next since a young child are by design to cover up removing one from society out of a hate agenda. Not because they committed an actual crime that would dictate that sentencing by a judge.

Through these repeated actions, officers and others have attempted to provoke me into emotional reactions, framing me as unstable or "paranoid." Especially while trying to file police reports upon finding out. In reality, their behavior demonstrates awareness and participation in the very activities they publicly deny.

Most importantly, the LAPD has refused to even acknowledge the ongoing harassment or take protective action, despite clear evidence and repeated requests for help. Their continued denial and avoidance with hostility is obviously an effort to cover up, rather than confront, the misconduct and pretend it's just a tease or joke to downplay what is really going on—directly violating their duty to protect citizens and uphold justice. And the three illegal arrests and trials reinforce this truth. They are clearly trying to cover up something much bigger that they are involved in since they started in on me at a very young age. Drag my name through the mud and create paperwork on the surface to stop any possibility of anyone listening to the truth on their nonstop 48-year credibility attacks.

8. Court Proceedings and Judicial Interactions

Across multiple court proceedings at the Van Nuys courthouse, the same pattern of conflict, bias, and obstruction has appeared. Which I'm guessing would happen at any courthouse across the United States since they are doing this no matter where I've lived or been since a young child.

During a pre- trial hearing before Judge Stephen Austin Marcus (CA Bar #97026), I was told, "My next move would be to force you out of your house." This statement demonstrated an adversarial posture that was inconsistent with the judicial obligation to neutrality and fairness and clearly based on repetition with others reflects a personal motive. His strategic anger was cloaked about flyers of security camera photos, of Terrance Scroggins on my property during the trial throwing things all over my property to try to get me to go after him with the neighbors which are nonstop since 2001 and finding out. Pointing the focus on me trying to get him to leave me alone with the first amendment freedom of speech. Because the Police won't do anything to stop their mass stalking groups. While exposing their judicial corruption.

I have observed similar the same corruption from several other judges at the Van Nuys courthouse, including Judge Gregory A. Dohi, Judge Eric Harmon, Judge Diego Edber, Judge Neethu Badhan-Smith, as well as from numerous court clerks and random lawyers in the courthouse provoking me over and over almost every time there. Whether to get paperwork or case related. These patterns have included harassment, provocation in the courtroom designed to elicit a reaction to use as fabricated evidence of mental instability, and a general environment perceived as supportive of the misconduct at issue in my case.

Such consistent judicial and administrative behavior has contributed to my ongoing denial of a fair and impartial process. And goes against the BAR association's code of ethcs.

A serious conflict of interest also exists involving Debbie Wollman, the Van Nuys court reporter listed on the 2017 docket, who owns property directly adjoining my townhouse—sharing the same wall—yet has never lived in it. Ms. Wollman is recorded on video making false statements to me about my mental health, and appears to have communicated these defamatory claims not only to neighbors but also to clerks, attorneys, and judicial co-workers within the same courthouse system. Ironically, Jason Perelman's lawyer wife, Jennifer Pilchick Perelman's, father, Jay Pilchick is a court reporter in Florida. And Jennifer, who I have screenshots on the Internet of, stating to her Political Lawyer friends "We need to deem Kevin as crazy", not only has motive to cover up Jason Perelman's crime spree since early childhood. But also ran against Debbie Wasserman Shultz for congress in Florida twice. Showing she doesn't want Jason's skeletons coming out of the closet in which they are pinning on me. And would do anything known to man to make me disappear for good to cover up Jason's 48-year crime spree with the Perelman family. This defamation has since spread far beyond the local level, damaging my ability to obtain assistance or representation anywhere, because each potential contact encounters the poisoned narrative first. Such conduct has reinforced prejudicial assumptions inside the very institution charged with adjudicating my cases. Given her employment and proximity, this behavior raises serious concerns about confidentiality, impartiality, and professional ethics, demonstrating how personal relationships within the judiciary have perpetuated bias and hostility while destroying my name and reputation worldwide.

In my subsequent appeals, efforts to obtain new, conflict-free public defender have been repeatedly denied by the California Appellate Project (CAP). Despite my objections, I have assigned Rabbi and Attorney Yisrael Gelb, clearly linked to the Jewish Family, a newly licensed lawyer with roughly two years of experience. His appointment—given his personal and professional affiliations—created a clear appearance of bias and conflict of interest. When I requested reassignment, the appellate court denied the request, overlooking the obvious evident lack of argumentation and the conflict created by assigning devoutly religious clergymen who share close professional ties with the defense attorney Shep Zebberman who intentionally lost the case with his Judicial friends and co-workers. Who is linked to my family. Putting Religion and Social Groups above law and Order. The court has continued to force his representation, despite his unwillingness to act in my best interests or to base his arguments on the complete trial transcripts showing judicial and police misconduct.

Attorney Yisrael Gelb has refused to raise any claim of ineffective assistance of counsel or constitutional violations and judicial misconduct, which are non stop through all the cases, specifically declining to challenge or expose the misconduct of his colleague, the prosecution, the judges, or even help keep me safe with restraining orders for the stalking witnesses during the trial, and my previous defense attorney, Shep Alan Zeberman. A devout Jewish lawyer who takes part in every religious ritual to show his faith, Rabbi and Lawyer Gelb's refusal protects Shep Zeberman's reputation in the tight nit Jewish Community while Gelb is being forced on me by the Public Defender's office, at the expense of my defense, life, reputation, and freedoms, has intentionally placed me in a compromised position, ignoring constitutional violations and declining to obtain the full trial transcripts necessary to review judicial conduct by Judge Marcus and others with countless Judicial Misconduct in this one trial alone, just like the others linking to my own family and their issues. Judge Marcus's earlier statement—"My next move would be to force you out of your place"—demonstrates motive rather than law and suggests coordinated misconduct consistent with California Penal Code § 182 (conspiracy). These omissions amount to ineffective assistance and collusion under color of law.

These events appear connected to long-standing influence from my own family, which maintains social and professional relationships throughout the local Jewish community—including rabbi's and judicial associates—as well as within the medical, psychological, and Insurance professions. Over time, these overlapping ties have allowed personal hostility and prejudice to circulate through professional channels, affecting how cases are handled, how mental-health narratives are applied, and how I am perceived both within the legal system and publicly. The result has been a fusion of personal vendetta and institutional bias, manifesting as coordinated resistance to fair legal treatment and manipulation of judicial outcomes, destroying my name and reputation which as now gone on for close to 48 years.

The California Appellate Court's refusal to replace Rabbi and Attorney Yisrael Gelb, despite clear evidence of bias and conflict while directly linking to the Perelman and Silber family, reflects a pattern of institutional protectionism rather than impartial justice. The continued imposition of counsel linked to individuals implicated in prior proceedings ensures that my appeals cannot be properly argued or reviewed on their merits just like all the other cases. Or motives to punish me more for having an opinion about the wrong doings to my life.

Together, these factors—the 2017 court-reporter Debbie Wollman conflict that I didn't even know was going on, that has persisted since I moved in twenty-six years ago, the community and courthouse defamation, family-linked influence networks, biased counsel assignments, and the appellate court's refusal to provide neutral representation—demonstrate a systemic breakdown of judicial integrity and a continuing violation of my civil rights to effective counsel, freedoms, impartial review, with their mass ongoing stalking groups they call community Policing, and due process under the Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments, resulting in irreparable damage to my life and reputation.

Why would a stranger, Debbie Wollman, who I've spoken with three times since finding out in 2017, demand confessions from me saying I suffer from mental illness? Unless she is involved in defaming my name with the Judicial System and my own family as cover ups to what they have started when I was a young child.

9. Community Defamation and Bias

False and defamatory narratives about me have circulated for more than five decades—rooted in early family-driven labeling and later magnified through law-enforcement and judicial networks. What began within a family environment marked by hostility and control has evolved into a far-reaching campaign of public character destruction with motive to eradicate at all costs carried out under color of authority. Those responsible have entrenched themselves so deeply in this misconduct that acknowledgment of the truth would expose five decades of deception, harassment, illegal police and judicial operations with the psychology community, and abuse. As a result, I have effectively been told that I am "not allowed to ask what is going on," while daily worldwide on and off the Internet, lies, setup attempts, frame jobs, provokings, and smear campaigns continue unchecked. The only answers I've really been given were Mike Huntly's death threats with the Judicial System in 2001. "World of Paranoia", "We are using the Judicial System Against you", "You had better live a careful life", "You know what you did", "Your past caught up with you", "You had better accept what's going on or it will get a lot worse for you"

Each time I have attempted to resolve matters or seek clarification, I have been met with increased retribution from the same network of police, family members, judicial personnel, Co Workers of my family-Psychology Community, and community-policing civilians—demonstrating a level of coordination and criminality that defies ordinary explanation. And will stop any aspect of the truth coming out, even if it means my death or incarcerated for life which is clearly their motive.

From early childhood, members of my family—many with long-standing social ties to individuals in law enforcement, psychology community, medical industry, and the courts—described me in false and stigmatizing terms, portraying normal behavior as instability or deviance. And yet the more I've proved them wrong, the angrier they've gotten. Over time, these private mischaracterizations are absorbed by police and judicial personnel, who used them to justify continuous monitoring and intervention. This unauthorized psychological labeling, never based on any legitimate clinical or factual evaluation, became the pretext for surveillance, provocation, and worldwide public defamation. The labels are instantly thrown on me, before any conversation with any person almost worldwide, and this has been happening since a young child. Showing that, information is being disseminated in unheard of methods across the Internet and with unlimited resources. Before that, it was city wide, from word of mouth in whatever city I lived in.

Through police communications, court filings, and informal information-sharing among community-policing programs, these false descriptions have been aggressively broadcast and backed across jurisdictions throughout the United States with clear malicious motive. Such LAPD cover ups are that I'm supposedly a public nuisance to enable what their worldwide vigilante groups are doing. They have created an environment in which ordinary citizens, businesses, and agencies respond to me as though I am dangerous, unstable, crazy, or guilty of some unspeakable crime—an impression entirely fabricated through misuse of authority while trying to provoke me into reactions to collect and turn around on me to the public to cover up their hate agenda. This process has converted rumor into institutional fact, weaponizing the credibility of government offices to perpetuate stigma and justify continuing interference in my daily life. The more I speak out about their agenda to remove me from society with their mass stalking groups because they refuse to stop, the angrier they get. Proving motive.

The pattern reveals illegal police and judicial operations in which mental-illness and criminal labels are used not for public safety, but as instruments of social control. Under this framework, individuals can be targeted, isolated, and discredited indefinitely, while those responsible evade accountability by invoking "law-and-order" or "public-health" rationales. In my case, this mechanism has been used to terrorize, silence, and economically disable me through organized defamation and harassment coordinated between police, judicial figures, and community participants—its final motive being to eradicate me at all costs while using mental-illness labeling as cover ups.

These actions have nothing to do with legitimate law enforcement or public welfare. They represent a misuse of government power and mental-health terminology as tools of coercion born of hate and insecurity, turning legal and psychological systems into instruments of subjugation rather than justice. The result has been enduring social and economic isolation, reputational annihilation starting from early childhood, daily provokings with the Police and their civilian armies to get reactions as setup operations to incarcerate for life, and the continuation of civil-rights violations under color of law.

10. Family Influence

Certain members of my immediate family occupy influential positions within the medical, psychological, and community sectors, and their actions have contributed to the long-term spread of false narratives and stigmatizing labels about me. With what they are trying to do on the surface almost appears to be some kind of sick deranged demented behavioral modification to make someone in their image.

My father, Dr. Ron Perelman, is an orthopedic surgeon with a secondary psychology degree, who maintained professional and social relationships with colleagues in medical and law-enforcement circles dating back to my birth in 1972 at Castle Air Force Base in Merced, California. My mother, Anita Perelman, is an art therapist who has frequently used her background in art psychology to analyze or reinterpret my creative work in a negative light, presenting my artwork or personal expression as evidence of instability. And fabrications that I'm filled with anger and tormented inside. My brother, Dr. Jason Perelman, now a urologist, is drawn into these family dynamics at a young age and has continued to echo the same psychotically stigmatizing criminal characterizations promoted by my parents. My step-father, Arnold Silber, has been socially active within local Jewish organizations alongside my mother, using those community networks primarily for control, influence and association rather than for religious observance.

Together, these relationships created a family-based influence network that extends into the broader medical, psychological, and judicial communities. Private opinions and animosities originating within the household have circulated through professional channels and been accepted as credible background information by individuals in positions of authority with worldwide anonymous civilians defaming my name. This has allowed personal hostility to merge with institutional power, transforming family resentment and control into official perception.

Over the years, these same narratives have been cited or relied upon—formally and informally—by police officers, mental-health professionals, and court personnel, perpetuating the same false psychological labeling that began in childhood. What began as familial control and defamation has thus evolved into an institutionalized pattern of worldwide bias that continues to affect how I am treated by law-enforcement, worldwide groups of strangers, and judicial systems across jurisdictions.

The result is a continuing blurring of lines between private animus and public authority, enabling the use of professional networks to sustain harassment, restrict opportunities, and justify ongoing violations under color of law while intentionally trying to escalate into violence for setup operations. Creating a jail sentence, whether in a physical cage or a real one because of their hate for their child who has exerted the same behaviors as the norm and is different than the family.

In 2013, private defense attorney Jonathan Franklin stated, "I'm not going to say anything bad about a police officer,"—a position that violates everything the BAR Association and our judicial system is meant to stand for. Every attorney who has represented me, Richard Barnwell of the Johnny Cochran Firm, Seymour Amster, Shep Zebberman, Yisreal Yelb, almost every call to try to find a Lawyer for help, regardless of payment or public defender, refused to mount an actual defense. Each offered only the bare minimum effort necessary to lose, a pattern that has become blatantly obvious over time.

In 2017, Defense Attorney Seymour Amster wrote a bunk appeal while inviting me down to his office, where Deborah Bear of the Jewish Aleph Institute stated I'm antisemitic. Trying to make me think I deserve to not be represented fairly. Linking the Jewish aggressors with their judicial friends, my family and stepfather Arnold Silber to the Jewish communities' crime sprees against me with their judicial friends, going all the way back to early childhood. The family's anger at me for kissing a black girl when I was 8 years old and my worldwide punishments for it.

During the trial period, Arresting Officer and witness Charles Sean Dinse of the LAPD came to my residence two weeks before testifying, placing a parking citation on my vehicle, the car one inch in red, in a clear act of intimidation.

I have a complete history of evidence, and over 70 Terabytes of hard drive data on the Internet, of these types of nonstop 24-year events on videos, photos, audio recordings, screen shots, proving everything that is going on globally and with LAPD, with fellow police officers and these Topanga Division Community Policing Operations. Which is much bigger than that one location, and his angry worldwide mobs helping him in his criminal activities to hunt and stalk civilians he just doesn't like or approve of based on his ideologies of what should be. Going against law and order. Taking the law in his own hands if he doesn't like someone fabricating charges, or setup and frame jobs. Personal hate. And his opinions about mental illness and where people should be filed to if they suffer from it.

As a result, the jury in all trials never saw the evidence that supported my consistent claims of targeted harassment and threats to my safety and life by these community policing groups with my family. Especially the video of the witnesses who could have been impeached on the stand. No witness in every single trial has ever been impeached affectively about their behavior and coordinated events. Not even questions about Charles Sean Dinse using is Facebook account to rile the masses against the people he's investigating or doesn't like.

In the 2017 trial, Attorney Richard Barnwell, upon arrival to the courtroom, stated, "Wait out here", he spoke to another attorney telling me the case was dismissed, never checking me into the court. With Pre-Meditation, to have the Judge issue a warrant for my arrest. Richard Barnwell was African American showing racial hatred towards the Jewish Community for kissing a black girl when I was 8 years old linked to my family's anger over it. And showing that a lot of these worldwide stalking groups are partially over racial hatred for me. However, things are much more complex with this unheard-of segregation in 2025. Which wasn't even happening in the 1970's when I was born especially in Los Angeles California.

In 2013, Officer Jenson, with Charles Sean Dinse, told me, I wasn't allowed to sit on the sidewalk longer than 5 minutes. I asked him for his badge number. Officer Jenson proceeded to state. "I will show you my badge number" and wrote me a misdemeanor ticket protecting My Brothers BBQ for their nonstop harassment with all the other restaurants worldwide. This is when Charles Sean Dinse took it upon himself to ramp up what LAPD had been doing my entire life to stalk and silence me about their ongoing nonstop crimes until I never exist in society. Their anger came from me having an opinion that these worldwide groups had been lied to, and they needed to leave me alone, and stop stalking me with LAPD. This is the moment, Charles Sean Dinse realized he needed to silence me and figure out how to make me disappear with Chief Michael Moore. However, this goes from predecessor to predecessor all the way down to early childhood and my family.

In 2018, I provided the San Diego Police Department with evidence of persistent harassment and stalking by large, anonymous groups at local locations in Sandiego to prove a point that no matter where I went, I would be attacked by mass groups in illegal setup operations. During this interaction, met with pure anger, officer Niger made a troubling statement to me: "People are allowed to kill people if they don't physically touch them." This remark suggested an alarming tolerance for or acceptance of community-organized harassment campaigns, and indicated that such forms of psychological and social targeting are treated permissively by some law enforcement personnel. His anger increased as I pushed the issue that it doesn't matter if someone is physically touched or not, pre-meditated acts for people congregating to kill someone has motive and execution to commit the crime. As he got even angrier stating "If you don't leave, I will drag you out of here myself" Notably, and coincidently, a lawsuit was filed against the San Diego Police Department regarding similar patterns of community-based stalking and coordinated harassment directed at civilians by the Sandiego Police Department, reportedly involving police collaboration with these groups.

Also, in 1991, Sandiego Police Department was working with a so-called friend named Eric Christianson, with Jason Perelman and my family, to bring me down to Sandiego in setup operations. A friend who latched on to me stalking in at Southern Oregon State college linked to my family, the Police, and these eradication operations.

Officer Charles Sean Dinse posted on his public Facebook account Los Angeles Times articles such as "How Do We Force People into Mental Facilities," revealing a clear motive and agenda that could have been explored on the stand—demonstrating a coordinated effort to lock people away out of hatred, fear or insecurity rather than law. In this case, with my own family's hatred.

The suppression of this evidence directly affected the fairness of every proceeding. It concealed the broader context of provocation, intimidation, and fear under which I am forced to live and deprived the jury of critical information that would have exposed the motives, lies, and bias of key accusers. Especially while they are on video doing it.

2013 Officer Toro Death Threats at Encino Starbucks covering up their LAPD crime spree against me. “If you ever take a picture of a person, I will exercise the law in my own way” He was reported to Internal Affairs with so many other events in photos, videos, audio recorded. Especially my police station visits to try to get police reports taken. Showing that Officer Toro, has a problem with civilians who are victims of Police Misconduct. At no point would Internal Affairs do anything to stand against any type of Police Misconduct enabling the police to go out and commit these crimes whenever they feel like it.

In 2013, private defense attorney Jonathan Franklin stated, "I'm not going to say anything bad about a police officer,"—a position that violates everything the BAR Association and our judicial system is meant to stand for. Every attorney who has represented me, regardless of payment or public defender, refused to mount an actual defense. Each offered only the bare minimum effort necessary to lose, a pattern that has become blatantly obvious over time. Clearly linking them to something much bigger in a Judicial Conspiracy from an enraged family, their Judicial Friends, angry at their young child 40 years later.

In 2017, Defense Attorney Seymour Amster wrote a bunk appeal while inviting me down to his office, where Deborah Bear of the Jewish Aleph Institute stated I'm antisemitic. Trying to brainwash me into thinking I deserve to not be represented fairly. Linking the Jewish aggressors with their judicial friends, my family and stepfather Arnold Silber to the Jewish communities' crime sprees against me, going all the way back to early childhood. The family’s anger at me for kissing a black girl when I was 8 years old and my worldwide punishments for it. Excommunication on a planetary scale for things that no one in their right mind could care about. These are then reversed on me, just like my 911 calls on people like Bailey Bernard who followed me home, with assault and battery. With my family’s psychology degrees trying to cover up what they are doing as trauma. Trying to make what they and LAPD are doing look like internal problems rather than external problems from LAPD, the Psychology Community, and these community policing operations.

During the trial period, Officer Charles Sean Dinse of the LAPD arrived at my residence two weeks before testifying, placing a parking citation on my vehicle one inch in red, in a clear act of intimidation. As a result, the jury never saw the evidence that supported my consistent claims of targeted harassment and threats to my safety and life by these community policing groups with my family.

In addition, nine hand-written threat letters from Terrance Scroggins are affixed to or left on my vehicle at various times and locations after I was released on probation. Each demanded judicial inflated restitution payments, as USAA insurance compensated his damages, then Van Nuys Court House using it as a money making scheme to double charge for profit, trying to get me over to his house in anger, that his insurance had already covered and used taunting language clearly designed to provoke a reaction or create new charges through coordinated setups with police and the courts.

Specifically, more than 340 separate video and audio recordings of witness Terrance Scroggins provokings and setup operations with the Police and therapist Karine Echigian with the Psychology community, alone captured nonstop ongoing coordinated harassment and community policing groups verbal threats, vandalisms, and coordinated attempts to provoke confrontation in public spaces with the rest of the community members and police as setup and frame job operations. There are 70 videos alone during the trial of Terrance Scroggins running on my property throwing cards , trying to get me to invoke reactions during trial with stay away orders. And not one single video was presented to the Jury to impeach Terrance Scroggins motive to setup or frame with LAPD and the community. Terrance Scroggins was also on the HOA in 2017, showing that he had motive to commit possible crimes like eradicate someone to steal their house or cars. Or maybe just a righteous belief system that he can eradicate anyone he doesn't like in which he states on the stand in 2017, working with LAPD in these stalking operations. While they are trying to divert their motives to look like I suffer from mental illness or am a public nuisance. To protect the real criminals working with the police and judicial system to punish me for having an opinion about their mass stalking groups or what they've been doing nonstop for 48 years now. I am the victim of something much bigger in which Terrance Scroggins is directly linked to, the minute I bought the property 26 years ago. The bigger question of why and how, he has the capabilities with everyone else to network with therapist Karine Echigian all across the World with the Internet and Psychology Community and Police are the real questions of importance. And these illegal operations to eradicate people with bunk cover up labeling. Linking to my family and their psychology backgrounds, and co-workers. The worldwide defamation of character that Kevin Perelman is a public nuisance in it of itself by LAPD is the crime of all crimes.

These actions are mirrored by mass-coordinated neighborhood and worldwide groups operating non-stop since I discovered the stalking groups in 2001 and finding out what was going on with Mike Huntley's Death Threats with my family, "World of Paranoia", "We are using the Judicial System Against you", "You had better live a careful life", "Have a good life now", "I've given you enough rope to hang yourself with", "It's your behavior", "Your too out of control for California". In other words, If I'm taking a walk, and I yawn. There will be worldwide mobs hunting me claiming I'm a public nuisance as cover up labeling with the police and these stalking operations with the masses. Which is how things start as a young child, with claims that it's my behavior. What LAPD is doing with other police divisions is designed to execute innocent people and cover it up by defaming their names worldwide.

The materials show not only that I am a repeated target of harassment nonstop for 48 years by almost every human contact exponentially growing, but also that law-enforcement personnel and private individuals appeared aware of—or complicit in—the conduct. On one recording, Scroggins can be heard saying, "That's the man I want to kill." Showing that on these 340 videos or so trying to set me up, working with therapist Karine Echigian, that he has motive and is involved in a mass criminal stalking operation. Yet he was not questioned about anything at all that could prove what he was doing with all the neighbors and worldwide groups. Yet defense attorney Shep Zeberman refused to introduce a single one of these videos or any of the other videos proving witness motive and coordination. Or any questions asked about anyone else in the neighborhood taking turns on me in anger and rage since I moved in daily for 26 years. As a matter of fact, Shep Zebberman, like the rest, never even asked what had happened. Because he was helping the prosecution and using the prosecutions story to go after me. Instead of defending me and the truth.

Witness Pedram Esponoza is on video stating, "You take pictures of kids—you're not allowed on our side," in these rotating 48-year excuses with the masses, referring to the townhouse complex's common areas. This could have been used to show that witnesses are provoking the defendant daily, without pause, for more than twenty-four years. Meanwhile, the LAPD refused to document or even acknowledge any of it, while actively participating in the same pattern of harassment. There have been hundreds of visits to file police reports with LAPD, with proof, photos, videos, security cameras. You name it. The only help they have provided was their death threats by officer Toro and other officers working with civilians. “If you ever take a picture of a person, I will exercise the law in my own way” These attacks are at almost every public place wherever I go. Showing there's no way to walk away by design.

14. Closing Request

For nearly five decades, I have been subjected to unrelenting and coordinated persecution—daily setups, frame-job operations, provocations, and psychological warfare—intended to portray me as unstable or dangerous, tormented inside, filled with anger, to justify my eradication or incarceration at any cost. These acts began in early childhood, driven by a psychotic family obsessed with power, control and perfection, and amplified by law-enforcement and judicial figures who transformed personal hatred into institutional action. Calling it Police Monitoring. And babbling about behavior. To young children the family either is afraid of or just doesn’t like because he’s not like them. Finding out this was going on while LAPD was trying to plant drugs in my house to frame me, and the worldwide privacy violations and their mental illness tactics to try to create the appearance of mental illness to eradicate and cover up at all costs.

This campaign—rooted in trivial childhood events and inflamed by prejudice, such as my being condemned by the Jewish family and socially excommunicated from the world with Judicial Authority and the police for kissing a Black girl at eight years old—or similar insignificant events, has evolved into the destruction of my name, reputation, and livelihood worldwide while keeping me in complete isolation. What began as their private hostility has grown into a daily worldwide system of defamation, manipulation, attacks, and provokings, executed through police networks, courts, and community-policing programs, all while I am told I "Imagine" it or suffer from "mental illness." Charles Sean Dinse states on his Facebook account, "How do we force people into mental facilities" this is no different from history and power figures committing heinous crimes of mass genocide based on the same belief systems. That they are better than someone else, or a race of them.

High School Teachers involved, Middle School Teachers, College Professors, fake friends told to keep tabs on me or try to make me look crazy, setup attempts, frame job attempts, who act as jailors, instead of real friendships who were obviously not acting alone. Women I dated told, by the police to try to setup or frame. One sequentially after the next. Nonstop 48-year operations to incarcerate for life based on fear of a 5-year-old with the Perelman Family and their Psychology Degree Hate Labeling. Bypassing all law and order for someone to get what they want. And cover up what they started with the Judicial System Violating all civil rights as a human being.

There is no greater crime than what has been done: using government authority, law, and mental-health labeling as weapons to erase a person's life, silence his truth, and isolate him from the world through fear, lies, and intimidation support from worldwide anonymous strangers in these community policing operations. These are not acts of justice—they are the crimes of all crimes, carried out under the color of law. And go against everything the Constitution of the United States stands for especially with the size of this mass conspiracy.

I therefore formally request that the United States Department of Justice open a full investigation into these ongoing violations and cover ups from the beginning by the Perelman and Silber family, with the police, psychology community and judicial system under 18 U.S.C. §§ 241 and 242, including the misconduct of law-enforcement officers, prosecutors, judicial officials, and associated civilian networks. With Chief Michael Moore's community Police Programs with Lead Officer Charles Sean Dinse, and many others with their predecessors stalking me all the way down to early childhood with their mental illness labeling to justify these constitutional violations and horrific crimes against me. I ask that immediate steps be taken to protect my right to safety and the same freedoms as everyone else, my life that has been in danger for 48 years in unheard of psychological methods from a family with psychology degrees and their judicial friends who have indoctrinated a planet of people into helping them, while riling the masses against me, in a mass angry fear mongered mob with pre-meditated motive and agenda, fair judicial proceedings, and equal protection under the Constitution and accountability.

Sincerely,
Kevin Perlman
Victim / Complainant

Case Numbers and Related Filings

- 3PY03498 (2013)
- LAV636353018 (2017)
- BR053990 (2018)
- LA099813 (2023)
- B343120 (Current Appeal)

Violations by Penal Code with everything in this document which is extremely vast for the bigger picture

Some Of The Example Events by Code

1. Ongoing Organized Harassment, Stalking, and Retaliation

- Event: I have been subjected to near-daily harassment, mob stalking, and provocation—by law enforcement, community-policing groups, civilians, and even family—from childhood through the present, in public, private, and digital spaces.
- Code: PC § 646.9; PC § 182; 18 USC § 241 (Conspiracy Against Rights)

2. Defamation and Stigmatizing Labels

- Event: My reputation has been destroyed through the global spread of false mental health labels and defamatory allegations, promoted by my family—with police, judiciary, and community collaborators—causing wide social and economic harm.
- Code: CA Civil Code § 46; PC § 422; 18 USC § 241

3. Framing/Planting Evidence (Marijuana Incident)

- Event: Family members and associates attempted to plant police-confiscated marijuana in my home, intending to frame me as a drug dealer.
- Code: PC § 141; PC § 182 (Conspiracy); 18 USC § 241

4. Privacy Violations, Tech Invasion, and Surveillance

- Event: My computers, phones, and digital life have been subjected to repeated hacks (Trojans, unauthorized monitoring), GPS/cell tracking, and data theft by police-connected or enabled networks since the 1990s.
- Code: PC § 502; PC § 637.2 & § 631 (Electronic Surveillance); PC § 530.5 (ID Theft)

5. Vandalism, Auto Tampering, Fraudulent Repair, and Property Sabotage

- Event: Hundreds of instances of vehicle vandalism, property tampering, and coordinated fraud at auto shops nationwide—including deliberate sabotage, overcharging, or false diagnostics—engineered to provoke, defraud, and destabilize me.
- Code: PC § 594 (Vandalism); PC § 487, § 484; PC § 182 (Conspiracy/Fraud)

6. Assault, Battery, and K-9 Attack

- Event: I have suffered physical assaults by civilians and hired security, and was severely attacked by a neighbor's police-trained K-9, resulting in deep injuries and hospitalization.
- Code: PC § 240 (Assault); PC § 242 (Battery); PC § 245 (Deadly Weapon)

7. False Police Reports, Perjured Testimony, and Malicious Prosecution

- Event: Officers, prosecutors, and civilian witnesses have regularly filed false reports, given perjured testimony, and pressed charges based on manufactured incidents or evidence.
- Code: PC § 118 (Perjury); PC § 148.5 (False Police Report); PC § 136.1 (Witness Retaliation); 42 USC § 1983

8. Suppression/Destruction of Exculpatory Evidence

- Event: Law enforcement and counsel have repeatedly withheld, destroyed, or refused to present exculpatory video, audio, and key witness evidence in court.
- Code: PC § 135; Federal: Brady v. Maryland; 42 USC § 1983

9. Judicial and Court Staff Misconduct & Conflicts

- Event: I encountered judicial bias, threats, refusal to recuse, ex parte communication, and clerk/court reporter conflicts (e.g., Debbie Wollman owning neighboring property, spreading narratives), all of which tainted my access to a fair process.
- Code: PC § 96 (Judge/Clerk Corruption); CA Gov Code § 1222

10. Attorney Collusion and Ineffective Defense

- Event: My attorneys (public and private) failed to use evidence, impeach false witnesses, introduce exculpatory material, or zealously represent me—sometimes due to conflicts with my family or local social circles.
- Code: 6th Amendment; 42 USC § 1983; State Bar Rules

11. Witness Intimidation, Threats, & Extortion

- Event: Neighbors (e.g., Terrance Scroggins), community members, and law enforcement left threat letters, demanded unlawful payments, attempted to provoke reactions, and sought to extort or silence me, especially during legal proceedings.
- Code: PC § 136.1; PC § 518 (Extortion); PC § 422 (Threats)

12. Malicious Arrest, False Imprisonment, and Deprivation of Liberty

- Event: I was repeatedly arrested or prosecuted based on false, malicious, or retaliatory complaints when I attempted to document, defend against, or report crimes.
- Code: PC § 236 (False Imprisonment); 42 USC § 1983

13. Civil Rights/Hate Crimes Targeting Personal Traits

- Event: Targeted for deprivation of rights, harassment, exclusion, or violence due to mental health labels, family background, or race—often to justify further police or judicial action against me.
- Code: PC § 422.6; PC § 422.55; 18 USC § 245, § 241, § 242

14. Systematic Suppression and Manipulation of Official Records

- Event: Police, prosecutors, and court staff suppressed, altered, or destroyed police/court records and filings to conceal misconduct and block my ability to seek redress.
- Code: PC § 6200; PC § 115; 18 USC § 1519 (Federal Destruction of Records)

15. Organized Criminal Conspiracy to Violate Civil Rights

- Event: Multiple actors (family, law enforcement, legal, and community members) have entered into continuous agreements to violate my civil rights, intimidate, and drive me from society—a pattern consistent with conspiracy and organized crime statutes.
- Code: PC § 182 (Conspiracy); 18 USC § 241 (Federal Conspiracy)

Trial Note For 2023 Trial - Appeals Disregarded on all levels with bunk representation as an example of all three cases

2023 Trial is linked to all events all the way down to early childhood as cover up operations to discredit

2023 – Illegal Trial Notes

Name: Kevin Perelman
State: California
County: Los Angeles (Van Nuys Courthouse)

Case: LA099813

Legal Issue: Criminal conviction—seeking complete dismissal (with prejudice, no retrial)
Primary Goals:- Vacate conviction and have entire case dismissed prejudice due to cumulative constitutional violations.

Ineffective Assistance of Counsel and courtroom misconduct – Shep Zebberman

Specific Accusations:

- Discriminatory and Prejudicial Comments
- Sheps Statement to me, right before the verdict "You might get away with this" Showing from day one, he was acting as a judge, not a Lawyer. And was never going to represent me fairly and was involved in a conspiracy to lock me away no matter how innocent. No matter how much proof. He wasn't even going to try to prove my innocence.
- Everything asked he give an opposite answer, and disinformation, showing anger. I asked about change of venue. like change of venue, he lied stating their was not grounds for. While was friends with a lot of the Judges. Being provoked and harassed by witness Terrance Scroggins before and during trial with over 250+ videos which could have been presented to the Jury. Would not help with filing restraining orders or use the information to show in the court at any time that Terrance was always the aggressor or impeach the witnesses properly jumping from lawyer to lawyer.
-
  - Penal Code § 147: Willful deprivation of a client's rights
- Failure to Investigate/Prepare/Defend
- Association With Aleph Institute – Prejudice and Collusion

In 2018, during the appeal process, attorney Seymour Amster worked with Debra Bear of the Aleph Institute, a Jewish organization, who stated I was "antisemitic."

- This defamatory claim was made despite my Jewish heritage and history of being targeted for not conforming to certain religious or cultural expectations.
- The labeling was used strategically to prejudice the court and Jewish community against me, undermining my appeal and denying me equal protection.
- This demonstrates that the appeals process itself was sabotaged by religiously-motivated bias, collusion, and intentional misrepresentation of my character.
- The coordination between Amster, Bear, and Aleph shows intent to intentionally lose the appeals rather than zealously advocate for my rights.
- ---
- II. Judicial Corruption and Misconduct
- (previous subsections unchanged)
- Community Influence Through Aleph Institute
- The Aleph Institute, via Debra Bear, actively manipulated public and judicial perception by branding me antisemitic.
- These false claims carried weight within the Jewish community and influenced judicial officers who had associations with Aleph.
- The involvement of Aleph demonstrates community-based corruption intertwining religious prejudice with judicial bias.

- Did not review Kevin's exculpatory video evidence or ask for Kevin's version of events. - Relied on fabricated reports and prosecution narrative. - Penal Code § 1054.9: Failure to seek or present exculpatory evidence and linked ties through the people in the Jewish Community mad at me for kissing a black girl based on the Worldwide Hatred I'm not allowed to talk about.

- Failure to File Key Motions

- Judge Dohi, refused to file Pitchess motion for LAPD Officer Charles Sean Dinse, despite Dinse's federal lawsuits for similar behavior. - Would not request change of venue or move for mistrial, nor file dismissal. Even with the events happening in the court room - Penal Code § 1054.5: Withholding of motions/evidence

- Conflict of Interest

- Admitted being friends with Judge Gregory A. Dohi and Judge Stephen Marcus, failed to zealously advocate for client. - Potentially took $50,000 under false pretenses (with influence from Arnold Silber, Kevin's stepfather). - Penal Code § 182(a)(5): Conspiracy to obstruct justice

- Coercion Toward Insanity Plea (NGI)

- Tried to pressure client to plead NGI to "get you out of this," abusing attorney's power/trust. Stating "I can get you out of this" I know some Psychology People - Business & Professions Code § 6068: Duty to act with honesty and loyalty

- Refusal to Provide Self-Defense Argument

- Refused to present documented mobbing/stalking history; said self-defense not possible for vandalism despite clear evidence of gangstalking and conspiracy amongst mass stalking groups with LAPD with an Agenda to setup or frame the defendant. - Penal Code § 692-694: Legitimacy of self-defense argument

Judicial Corruption & Misconduct
Specific Accusations:

- Bias and Prejudice

- Judge Stephen Marcus: "I'll squeeze you out of your place."
- Judge Gregory A. Dohi: Fabricated mental health diagnoses, belittled and intimidated defendant ("Come on down!") treating court rooms and trials like fun game shows, denied defense motions for Pitchess; colluded in systemic prejudice.
- Penal Code § 96 & 96.5: Judicial officers acting corruptly, maliciously, or with conflict of interest

- Van Nuys Court Reporter who owns property adjoining my wall Misconduct – Debbie Wollman

- Spread false rumors about Kevin's mental health to court staff and judges; owned property adjoining defendant (conflict of interest). - Omitted critical exculpatory phrases from transcripts (e.g., "Every Miata is modified"). - Penal Code § 134: Preparing false evidence (tampered transcript) - Penal Code § 182: Conspiracy

Police Corruption – Officer Charles Sean Dinse
Specific Accusations:

- History of Lawsuits and Misconduct

- Used Facebook to incite neighborhood harassment against Kevin; earlier federally sued by Rex Schillenberger.
- Publicly posted “How do we FORCE people into mental facilities,” inciting community intimidation/hate/Stalking groups.
- Penal Code § 182: Conspiracy to violate civil rights
- Penal Code § 135: Destroying/concealing evidence

- Fabrication of Claims and Evidence

- Lied about Kevin following him with Prosecutor Orbell to use as amo for increased sentencing, staged incidents to provoke legal trouble. - Seized art computer (falsely called a “hard drive”), made misleading claims about data. - Penal Code § 118: Perjury - Penal Code § 141: Planting/tampering with evidence

- Intimidation and Collusion

- Orchestrated use of “fake FBI agents” to intimidate Kevin in courtroom right before trial day. - Colluded with Prosecutors Lisa Orbelli and Detective Ruiz, and Charles Sean Dinse.
- Penal Code § 136.1: Witness/victim intimidation - Penal Code § 182: Conspiracy

Witness and Community Misconduct

Specific Accusations:

- Terrance Scroggins (Neighbor/Witness):

- Engaged in continuous harassment/provocation before and during the trial(240+ videos), staged vandalisms with neighbors, Provokings, submitted false restitution claims (colluded with USAA Insurance to repaint entire car, then sought extra $5,000 after USAA paid for repairs).
- Left blackmail threats in writing demanding DIRECT restitution money.
- Penal Code § 518: Extortion
- Penal Code § 118: Perjury

- Pedram Espinoza (Neighbor/Witness):

- Provided knowingly false testimony about his time at the property and his encounters with Kevin. - Penal Code § 118: Perjury. No impeaching the witness with Pedram on video stating I’m not allowed at my townhouse complex. Or that I take pictures of kids. Showing he’s defaming my name and has motive to get rid of me. Shep kept the argument in the context to make it look like I was loitering around his house, in the common areas of our complex. A Juror had to ask the Judge how long I lived their he picked up one the one sided stories.

- Community Members ("Yosi," Jason Ryan Fishman, etc.):

- Participated in organized surveillance/harassment; repeated slander ("not a real Jew," "mentally ill"), acted at direction of Officer Dinse and neighborhood watch. - Penal Code § 653.2: Electronic/cyber harassment - Penal Code § 182: Conspiracy to harass. Showing linked events within the Jewish Community.

Prosecutorial Misconduct
Specific Accusations:

- Lisa Orbelli & Detective Ruiz (Prosecutors):

- Collaborated with police and witnesses to create "incidents" for prosecution; made false claims and permitted intimidation tactics in and around the courthouse.
- Permitted/introduced false evidence, allowed staged intimidation (fake FBI agents and courthouse staff).
- Penal Code § 118: Subornation of perjury
- Penal Code § 182: Conspiracy
- Penal Code § 96.5: Misconduct by officers of the court

Transcript, Records, and Restitution Tampering
Specific Accusations:

- Omitted or altered evidence/testimony in trial transcripts (Debbie Wollman).
- Docket/minute orders contained unexplained errors or clerical manipulation (split sentence, "no probation" issues), possibly at the direction of corrupt clerks and neighbor/court reporter Debbie Wollman.
- Restitution awarded based on fraudulent insurance claims and blackmail tactics (Terrance Scroggins).
- Penal Code § 134: Preparing false documentary evidence
- Penal Code § 115: Filing false instruments

Overarching Constitutional and Civil Rights Violations

Specific Accusations:

- Constitutional:

- Denial of due process (U.S. Const. Amend. XIV)
- Denial of effective assistance/counsel (U.S. Const. Amend. VI; Strickland v. Washington)
- Denial of fair trial and equal protection (California Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 15)

- Pattern of Systemic Government Abuse:

- Collusion among judges, defense, prosecutors, police, and community.
- Tampering, intimidation, and long-term targeting that makes fair retrial impossible.
- Penal Code § 182: Criminal conspiracy
- Civil Remedies: 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (federal civil rights suit for deprivation of rights under color of law)

Judicial Corruption—Grounds for Dismissal Overlooked

- Repeated Judicial Bias:

- Judge Stephen Marcus made overtly hostile comments toward Defendant ("I'll squeeze you out of your place"), demonstrating clear personal animosity and prejudice contrary to impartial adjudication required by law.
- Judge Gregory Dohi fabricated "mental illness" labels for Defendant with no clinical basis, belittled Defendant during proceedings, and denied valid defense motions (e.g., Pitchess motion for Officer Dinse), demonstrating pattern of prejudiced rulings.
Legal Basis: Judicial bias and partial are grounds for mistrial or dismissal:
- Caperton v. A.T. Massey Coal Co., 556 U.S. 868 (2009) (extreme judicial bias may violate due process).
- Cal. Penal Code § 96, § 96.5 (corrupt conduct by judicial officers).

- Court Reporter Misconduct & Transcript Tampering:

- Debbie Wollman, with a direct conflict of interest, fabricated negative mental health rumors about Defendant to judges and staff, and altered the official record (omitting exculpatory testimony such as "Every Miata is modified"). Legal Basis: Cal. Penal Code § 134 (preparing false evidence), § 182 (conspiracy to pervert justice).

Police Officer Corruption—Grounds for Dismissal Overlooked

- Officer Charles Sean Dinse's Documented Corruption:

- Used his Facebook account to incite community mobbing ("How do we FORCE people into mental facilities"), was previously federally sued for similar actions.
- Lied under oath about Defendant following him with Prosecutor Orbelli for increased sentencing, fabricated incidents, and seized Defendant's computer misrepresenting both its contents and evidentiary value.
- Regularly engaged in provocation and intimidation designed to escalate Defendant's legal peril.

Legal Basis:

- Cal. Penal Code § 118 (perjury), § 141 (evidence tampering), § 182 (conspiracy), § 147 (officials depriving rights).
- Cal. Evidence Code § 1043 et seq. (Pitchess motion—officer history of dishonesty/abuse is grounds for discovery, impeachment, and, where egregious, dismissal).

Prosecutorial Misconduct—Compelling Grounds for Dismissal Ignored

- Fabrication, Coll, and Use of False Evidence:

- Prosecutors Lisa Orbelli and Detective Ruiz collaborated with Dinse, Scroggins and others, knowingly presenting false or uninvestigated claims to the court.
- Prosecutors enabled and facilitated courtroom intimidation—including the appearance of people posing as FBI agents during trial—creating an atmosphere of threat and unlawfulness.
- Prosecutors injected irrelevant hearsay and prejudicial evidence into the record, repeatedly straying from the charges to paint Defendant as dangerous or unstable, manipulating judicial perception and deliberation.

Legal Basis:

- People v. Batts (2003) 30 Cal.4th 660, 693 (dismissal appropriate in egregious government misconduct).
- Cal. Penal Code § 118 (subornation of perjury), § 182 (conspiracy), § 96.5 (prosecutorial misconduct).

- Admission of Hearsay/Irrelevant Allegations:

- Prosecutors repeatedly introduced and relied on one sided prejudicial statements and hearsay incidents—statements, rumors, alleged threats, and unrelated community disputes—irrelevant to the charged offenses, used solely to inflame and manipulate the judge and jury. - Defense counsel failed to object or move to strike these prejudicial and improper references, compounding the miscarriage of justice. Legal Basis: - Cal. Evidence Code § 1200 (hearsay inadmissibility), - People v. Fuiava (2012) 53 Cal.4th 622 (admission of repeated, irrelevant misconduct evidence is reversible error).

Cumulative Misconduct Clearly Justified Dismissal

- Pattern of Collusion:

- Combined judicial, police, and prosecutorial bias, evidenced by intimidation, tampering, and fabrication, destroyed any pretense of fair trial.
- Egregious conduct rises to the constitutional standard where "the only appropriate remedy is dismissal," as retrial would merely replicate injustice.

- Missed Opportunities for Relief:

- At each stage—pretrial (based on evidence fabrication/transcript tampering), during trial (judicial bias, police perjury, prosecutorial hearsay, intimidation), and post-trial (restoration of rights, clerical errors)—counsel declined to move for dismissal.

Constitutional Right to an Impartial Jury

The Sixth Amendment of the United States Constitution guarantees the right to trial "by an impartial jury." California law further reinforces this right under Cal. Const., art. I, § 16, and established precedent requires that jurors be unbiased and free from connections to parties, witnesses, or law enforcement personnel that could impair impartiality.

In this case, the jury was irreparably tainted. Several jurors disclosed, or later revealed, direct connections to the police, prosecution witnesses, or prior knowledge of the defendant. These connections compromised impartiality and rendered the trial fundamentally unfair.

B. Jurors With Police Ties and Conflicts of Interest

1. Jury Connections to Police
    - A significant portion of the jury had familial, professional, or personal connections to law enforcement. This created an inherent bias in favor of police testimony and prosecutorial arguments, especially in a case centered on allegations of police misconduct and corruption.
2. False Claim of Prior Case
    - One juror falsely claimed during voir dire that she had previously been involved in another case with the defendant. This was untrue, demonstrating dishonesty during jury selection. A juror who conceals or misrepresents facts in voir dire violates the defendant's right to candid and truthful disclosures necessary for challenges for cause.

3. Relationship With Officer Charles Sean Dinse
    - One juror had previously been in a personal relationship with Officer Dinse, a key prosecution witness and the lead officer in the case. This conflict of interest is direct, undeniable, and should have required immediate disqualification.
4. Friendship With Detective Ruiz
    - Another juror admitted being friends with Detective Ruiz, another key police witness in the case. Such a connection fatally undermines the requirement of impartiality.
5. All the Jurors claimed they didn't know of me
    - when I'm known Worldwide and provoked at almost every place worldwide showing that it wasn't going to be a fair trial no matter what

C. Legal Standards for Juror Misconduct

California courts have long held that even the appearance of juror bias is sufficient to require reversal. (See People v. Nesler (1997) 16 Cal.4th 561, 578 [juror misconduct raises

Grounds for Dismissal (Relief Requested):

- Cumulative due process violations.
- Systemic government misconduct and collusion.
- Prejudice so severe retrial would be unjust and constitutionally insufficient.
- Legal authorities: US and California Constitution, People v. Batts (2003), Strickland. Washington (4), Caperton v. Massey (2009), Penal Code §§ 96, 96.5, 147, 182.

- At the start of trial, Judge Dohi instructed the jury that every defendant has the constitutional right to exercise the Fifth Amendment and remain silent.
- Toward the verdict, however, Judge Dohi lashed out in anger because I exercised that right. He called me toward the stand, stating: "You can stay back there, since you have nothing to say."

- Such judicial hostility undermines the impartiality of the court and violates U.S. Const., 5th & 14th Amends., Cal. Const. art. I, § 15, and California Penal Code § 147 (prohibiting oppressive conduct by judicial officers).
- Judicial violation of Fifth Amendment protections, where Judge Dohi ridiculed defendant's exercise of constitutional rights

- Was never a Probation Interview – Attorney didn't request anything in regards to this contributing to a harsher sentence.

- Judge instantly remanded bail met with Prosecutorial hearsay making up fictitious sitations with Dinse. This never occurred on my behalf. Just like the entire trial which was a one sided slaughter. Shep doing the prosecutors job for them.
    - On appeal, you could argue that the lack of a probation report or opportunity to present your circumstances denied you a fair sentencing process. This could be raised as either:
    - 1. A violation of your right to present mitigating evidence before sentencing.

      2. A failure of your counsel to ensure that all proper procedures were followed, which could amount to ineffective assistance of counsel.
    - We can frame that argument clearly in your appeal to show that the court didn't follow proper procedure and that it may have affected your sentence.
    - Let me know if that helps or if you want me to go into more detail.

probation paperwork shows missed check-ins when you were actually in jail—and not even sentenced yet—it could suggest:

1. Clerical Errors or Inaccuracies: This shows that official records may have been sloppy or incorrect. That's something you can point to as part of a pattern of errors in your case.

2. Due Process Concerns: If the system was recording things like missed check-ins that were physically impossible, it raises questions about how carefully your case was handled overall.

3. Potential Bias or Misconduct: If these kinds of mistakes piled up, you could argue that the probation department or court didn't handle your case fairly or accurately, which might strengthen claims of unfair treatment.

Appeal Argument Based on Lack of Review of Probation Report & Due Process Violation:

1. No Opportunity to Review or Dispute the Probation Report
- After conviction, you were placed in custody immediately.
- As a result, you had no chance to review or challenge the probation report before sentencing.
- The report could have contained hearsay, biased statements, or incorrect information that you never had a chance to correct.

2. Due Process Violation (Fourteenth Amendment)
- Denying a defendant the opportunity to review and contest the information used in sentencing is a violation of your due process rights.
- The U.S. Constitution guarantees that defendants must be given a fair chance to address any factors that may impact their sentence.

3. California Penal Code § 1203 – Probation Report Requirements
- Under California law, a probation report must be prepared and provided to the defendant (and their attorney) before sentencing.
- Defendants have the right to review and contest the contents of that report before the judge imposes a sentence.

4. Sentencing Based on Potentially Inaccurate or Biased Information
- If the judge relied on a probation report that you never saw, there's a risk that inaccurate, biased, or unvetted information influenced the sentence.
- That would undermine the fairness of the sentencing process.

5. Ineffective Assistance of Counsel Argument (If Applicable)
- If your attorney didn't ensure you had a chance to review the report, you could also argue ineffective assistance of counsel on the grounds that your attorney failed to protect this right.

Relevant Laws to Reference:

- California Penal Code Section 1203: Requires a presentence probation report, and the defendant must have access to review that report before sentencing.

- Due Process (U.S. Constitution, Fourteenth Amendment): Guarantees the right to a fair process, which includes the opportunity to contest evidence or reports used in sentencing.

Lead Officer Charles Sean Dinse making up lies with the Prosecutor. That on a trial day I supposedly followed him home taking his pictures.

1. Off-Record Influence on the Prosecutor
- If the officer fed unsubstantiated accusations to the prosecutor off the record, that's highly questionable.
- The court is supposed to rely on evidence presented during trial or sentencing, not informal, unproven statements from an officer.

2. Prosecutor's Duty
- The prosecutor is obligated to present only evidence that can be substantiated. If they used those unproven claims to sway the judge during sentencing, that can be seen as improper conduct.

3. No Opportunity to Respond
- If these accusations were made off the record and then presented at sentencing, you didn't have a fair chance to dispute them. That's a procedural fairness issue.

4. Impact on Sentencing
- If the judge's decision was influenced by unproven allegations from an officer through the prosecutor, that calls the fairness of your sentencing into question.

How This Might Play Out in Your Appeal:

- You can argue that the judge's sentencing decision was improperly influenced by off-the-record statements that you had no chance to challenge.
- That goes against the principles of due process and fair sentencing.
- Lack of Fair Trial: By tying together the officer's off-the-record actions during both the trial and sentencing, you emphasize that the entire judicial process was tainted from start to finish.

Detective Ruiz taking statements a 1.5 years latter with Terrance Scroggins or trying to cover up Terrance coming over throwing cards all over my property during the trial to try to get me to go after him in more setup operations with LAPD

1. Pretrial: Probable Cause vs. Context
- While the pretrial hearing is about probable cause, the judge can still consider context.
- If the prosecution introduces evidence or statements like the ones from Detective Ruiz or Terrence, your attorney could have pointed out that there's a history of provocation.
- That kind of context can sometimes influence how the judge sees the credibility of those claims.

2. Pretrial Influence on the Judge
- Even if the judge's main role is to determine if there's probable cause, their impression of you can still be shaped during pretrial hearings.
- If the court only heard negative statements and didn't see your evidence showing the full picture, that would have created a biased impression early on.

3. Sentencing: Where the Full Picture Matters
- Sentencing is where the judge can (and should) look at the full context of the situation, including your character and any mitigating circumstances.
- This is where your 300+ videos and the history of harassment by the witness could have been crucial.
- If that evidence wasn't presented or if the judge didn't allow it, then the sentence may have been based on an incomplete or biased view.

4. Legal Codes to Support Your Appeal
- California Penal Code § 1204 requires that the judge consider all relevant evidence during sentencing.
- Due Process Clause (14th Amendment) guarantees a fair process. If the judge relied on one-sided information or didn't allow you to present your evidence, that's a due process concern.

5. Why This Is Strong on Appeal
- For pretrial, if the judge was influenced by unproven claims, that might have prejudiced the entire case early on.
- For sentencing, it's even stronger—you have the right to present mitigating evidence, and the judge must consider all relevant information, not just what the prosecution provided.

6. Sentencing: Incomplete Picture and Bias (Continued)
- By not considering the video evidence showing Terrence's ongoing provocation, the judge made a decision without the full context of events or the behavior leading up to the alleged incident.

- This incomplete picture may have led to an unnecessarily harsh sentence.
- That's a due process issue, as you were not afforded the right to present mitigating evidence fully.

Conclusion: How This Strengthens Your Appeal
- The combination of improperly-timed statements by Detective Ruiz, the failure to consider crucial video evidence, and the biased narrative presented by Terrence all indicate that your trial and sentencing were not conducted fairly.
- These points can form a strong argument in your appeal for judicial error and a due process violation.
- The appellate court may find that the lower court failed to allow you to present a full and fair defense or that the judge was improperly influenced by the prosecution's narrative.

Lack of action by your lawyer and how you were denied a chance to challenge false claims and the probation report.

Bullet Points for Your Appeal Argument:

1. Gaslighting and Gang-Stalking by Neighbors:
- You had clear proof (videos, evidence) that neighbors were provoking you, harassing you, and then playing the victim.
- This evidence would have shown that you were being targeted.

2. Your Lawyer's Approach Was Harmful:
- Instead of presenting that proof, your lawyer refused to bring it up.
- The lawyer claimed they didn't want to make you "look crazy" by talking about gang-stalking or gaslighting, even though you had actual proof.
- By doing that, the lawyer didn't present your strongest defense or the full context of the situation.

3. Being Denied a Chance to Challenge the Probation Report:
- After conviction, you were put in custody right away and had no opportunity to review or challenge the probation report.
- That report may have contained false or biased information from neighbors or others, but you never got a chance to respond before sentencing.

4. Ineffective Assistance of Counsel:
- Your lawyer's refusal to bring in your proof or challenge false narratives could be argued as ineffective assistance of counsel.

- An attorney's job is to present all possible defenses and context, and it seems your attorney avoided key evidence that could have helped you.

5. Violation of Due Process:
- Because you didn't have a chance to challenge the probation report or present your proof of harassment, the judge sentenced you without the full picture.
- That's a potential violation of your constitutional right to due process.

Relevant Codes to Support This Argument:

1. California Penal Code § 1203 –
- Requires that a defendant (and their attorney) must be given the opportunity to review and challenge the probation report before sentencing.

2. Due Process Clause of the 14th Amendment –
- Guarantees your right to a fair trial and sentencing process, including the right to present evidence and challenge false claims.

- lawyer's refusal to present key evidence and your lack of opportunity to challenge the probation report resulted in an unfair sentence.
- The appellate court may view this as a violation of your due process rights and could order a new sentencing hearing or even reconsider the conviction if the underlying process was unfair.

Prosecutor Orbelli claims witnesses are scared card – coercion to judge and court

- Pedram opsonize and prosecutor – claim he is scared. He does not show up to pre-trial with the we are afraid of kevin angle.
- Pedram is on video bullying me, telling me, that I take pictures of kids, and I'm not allowed on their side of the joint HOA property. Common area
- Prosecutor Orbelli keeps using the victim card, showing she is purgering herself and avoiding honesty to win. Bypassing constitutionality while Shep Zeberman refused to impeach the witnesses showing motive, with the Home Owners Association, and The President Steven Bear to make money or cover up the non stop past events for 26 years to the defendant to lock him away while making money off of him. Whatever their hate motive may be. Linked to the larger events, provokings, and attacks. Which they are trying to cover up with mental illness labeling. Which all gets on video connecting all the events to 2001, Mike Huntley's death threats while working with LAPD to try to plant a trash bag of Police Confiscated Marijuana in my house. And Mike Huntly's Death threats "We are using the Judicial System Against you", "You had better live a careful life", "World of Paranoia", "I've given you enough rope to hang yourself with", "You are too out of control for California"

2023 Trial Notes by Codes

2023 Case Notes by Code

I. Ineffective Assistance of Counsel & Attorney Misconduct (Shep Zeberman, Amster, others)

A. Willful Deprivation of Rights & Negligent Defense

- PC § 147: Willful oppression by officers (can include attorneys acting under color of law)
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 1.1, 1.3: Competence and diligence required
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 1.7: Conflicts of interest (friends with judges/colluding)
- Bus. & Prof. Code § 6068: Duties of Attorneys (esp. (c), (d), (e): honesty, employ lawful means, confidentiality)
- Bus. & Prof. Code § 6106: Moral turpitude, dishonesty
- 6th Amendment, U.S. Constitution: Right to effective assistance of counsel (Strickland v. Washington)

- Ignored client's requests, gave false answers about key issues (e.g., venue).
- Colluded with prosecution/hostile witnesses.
- Refused to present exculpatory video evidence (250+ recordings).
- Refused to impeach hostile witnesses (Terrance Scroggins, Pedram Espinoza).
- Refused to seek restraining orders, did not request change of venue.
- Associated with Aleph Institute, subject to religious/community bias.

B. Failure to File Key Motions/Failure to Investigate

- PC § 1054.5: Withholding evidence/motions
- PC § 1054.9: Failure to present exculpatory evidence
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 3.1: Must assert claims with legitimate basis
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 3.4: Duty to present evidence; not destroy/withhold

- Did not file Pitchess motion, dismissals, or move for mistrial.
- Did not review, seek, or present client's exculpatory video evidence.

C. Conflict of Interest, Collusion, and Financial Impropriety

- PC § 182(a)(5): Conspiracy to obstruct justice
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 1.7, 1.9, 1.10: Conflicts (current/former clients, imputation)
- Bus. & Prof. Code § 6106, § 6128: Dishonesty, collusion to deceive the court

- Admitted being friends with presiding judges.
- Potentially took payment under false pretenses (collusion with family/other parties).

D. Coercion to Plead Insanity/NGI

- Bus. & Prof. Code § 6068: Duty to act loyally and with honesty
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 1.8.6: Not to make agreements limiting representation

- Sought to pressure a plea to NGI for attorney convenience, misusing trust and power.

E. Refusal to Argue Self-Defense

- PC §§ 692-694: Legitimacy of self-defense
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 1.1: Failure to present valid legal theory

- Refused to present mobbing/stalking evidence and self-defense despite factual basis.

II. Judicial Corruption, Bias & Misconduct (Judges Dohi, Marcus, etc.)

A. Corruption, Bias, and Prejudice

- PC § 96, § 96.5: Judicial officers corruptly exercising powers
- Bus. & Prof. Code § 6068(b): Respect due to courts
- CA Const. art. I § 7, 15; US Const. Amend. XIV, VI: Equal protection, due process/fair trial

- Hostile courtroom behavior ("Come on down!" "I'll squeeze you out of your place!").
- Denied valid defense motions; fabricated mental health diagnosis.
- Colluded with other parties to rig trial results.

B. Court Reporter Tampering/False Evidence (Debbie Wollman)

- PC § 134: Preparing false evidence (tampered transcript)
- PC § 182: Conspiracy
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 3.3: Duty of candor to tribunal

- Omitted critical/mitigating phrases, spread false rumors to staff/judges.

III. Police Corruption – Officer Charles Sean Dinse

A. Conspiracy and Harassment

- PC § 182: Conspiracy (community mobbing, social media provocations)
- PC § 135: Destroying/concealing evidence

- PC § 147: Depriving individual of rights under color of law

- Used Facebook to incite “How do we FORCE people into mental facilities.”
- Staged/fabricated incidents with prosecutors and witnesses.

B. Perjury and Fabricating Evidence

- PC § 118: Perjury
- PC § 141: Planting or tampering with evidence

- Lied about interactions (e.g., being followed home).
- Seized computer, made false statements about nature/data contents.

C. Witness/Victim Intimidation

- PC § 136.1: Victim/witness intimidation
- PC § 182: Conspiracy

- Orchestrated fake FBI agent intimidation, colluded on prosecution strategies.

IV. Witness, Neighbor, and Community Misconduct

A. Harassment, Perjury, Extortion (Terrance Scroggins, Pedram Espinoza, others)

- PC § 518: Extortion (threat/blackmail letters, demands)
- PC § 118: Perjury (false claims/testimony)
- PC § 653.2: Electronic/cyber harassment (social media, group organization)
- PC § 182: Conspiracy

- Continuous, organized provocation, false restitution, defamation, and slander.

V. Prosecutorial Misconduct (Orbelli, Ruiz, etc.)

- PC § 118: Subornation of perjury
- PC § 182: Conspiracy with police/witnesses to present false evidence
- PC § 96.5: Prosecutorial misconduct (officers of the court)
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 3.3: Candor to tribunal
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 3.4: Not to present/bolster false evidence
- Colluded with Dinse, Scroggins, and others to stage intimidation (fake FBI in court), present false evidence, and repeatedly rely on irrelevant, prejudicial claims.

VI. Records/Restitution Tampering

- PC § 134: Preparing false documentary evidence (altered transcripts, omitted phrases)
- PC § 115: Filing false instruments (falsified docket, fake restitution claims)
- Cal. Rules Prof. Conduct 3.3: Duty of candor to court
- Court reporter or clerks altered/omitted record content to harm your defense.

VII. Constitutional & Civil Rights Violations (All Parties)

- 42 USC § 1983: Civil suit for deprivation of rights under color of law
- PC § 182: Criminal conspiracy (collusion among government actors)
- US Const. Amend. VI & XIV: Right to fair trial, impartial tribunal, effective counsel
- CA Const. Art I, §§ 7, 15: Due process, fair trial

VIII. Juror Misconduct

- CA Penal Code § 1073 & Evidence Code § 1150: Juror disqualification for bias, improper contact, or failure to disclose conflicts
- US Const. 6th Amendment: Right to impartial jury

IX. Probation Report/Clerical Tampering

- PC § 1203: Defendant's right to review probation report before sentencing
- 14th Amendment / Due Process
- PC § 182: Conspiracy, if shown as coordinated misconduct

Daily News Article Proving Gym Manager Rodie Morales and Mike Huntley Manipulating me to sign up to Worlds Gym, While Rodie took me to clubs, and tried to get a Trash bag of LAPD confiscated marijuana in my house as illegal police setup and frame job operations with my family with his schizophrenia tactics and trying to scare me into a coerced false confession –

“It’s not like you killed someone, did you”

this country," said Juan Jose Gutierrez, director of One-Stop Immigration, which provides legal and educational services through-

INS Commissioner Doris Meissner promised not to raise that fee until a backlog of citizenship applications — there were 1.7 million cases earlier this year — was

But the higher fees are still worth it to him.

"I can make more money here than in El Salvador," he said.

agers to oversee recruitment. These managers will use Hispanic media and paid advertisements to spread the word on federal jobs.

Managers also will cultivate con-

10-point blueprint.

"The federal government can only offer so many jobs," he said. "We also need to look at getting Hispanics involved as entrepreneurs."

Weight trainer conceals past as a hitman

Seven-year search ends when double life is discovered

> "Someone is missing and I am going to get the blame for it. ... I've got to leave the country."
>
> – Neville Vandermerwe

By P.H. FERGUSON
The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — He had a winning personality and movie star looks. But police say popular weight trainer and aspiring movie stuntman Graham Miller used an upscale, suburban health club to hide out from a past as a contract killer.

The seven-year search for the murderer of wealthy British businessman Simon Law ended last month when Neville Vandermerwe — Miller's real name — was arrested in the parking lot of the San Fernando Valley health club.

The 28-year-old South African immediately confessed to his double life, police say, and is being held without bail pending an extradition hearing.

In a town that thrives on images, Vandermerwe worked hard to stand out, even as he masked a dark past.

"Everyone liked him," said Rodie Morales, general manager of World Gym in Woodland Hills, where Vandermerwe worked. "He was a popular guy."

Friends, colleagues and neighbors expressed disbelief that the breezy, confident young man was wanted by police in three countries.

"He carried himself with confidence and authority," said neighbor Porter Jordan. "He could have been an actor."

In fact, Vandermerwe's entire life was something of an act.

He lived in a small apartment with his beautiful American wife, Christine Miller, a few miles east of the gym in a humdrum section of Tarzana.

Despite his middle-class existence, Vandermerwe dressed sharply and commuted in a BMW to the exclusive health club, where patrons pay personal trainers $75 an hour.

He told colleagues he was a veteran of the South African Army and had worked Hollywood stunt jobs. The Screen Actors Guild confirmed he was registered with the union but had no record that he ever held a movie job or even had an agent.

Vandermerwe's photogenic appearance apparently did bring him offers to work as a model, but he told friends he turned the jobs down.

Ms. Miller could not be reached for comment, but a close friend, speaking on the condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press that Ms. Miller had not known of her husband's past. "She is floored," the friend said.

Both Vandermerwe and his lawyer refused to comment.

Vandermerwe was 20 in April 1991 when he and friend Glen Chait traveled to Great Britain from their homes in a well-to-do Johannesburg suburb.

The two young men stood out as they drove through rural England in the stylish red Vauxhall Astra they had borrowed from South African friends in London.

In the small town of Elmsted, the pair asked several people for directions to the fashionable home of Simon Law, an accountant and violinist.

A suspicious neighbor jotted down the car's license plate when it pulled into Law's driveway. About the time Law was reported missing when he failed to appear at church choir practice, Vandermerwe and Chait were seen washing down the red coupe.

But they missed a few drops of blood on the rubber seal of the trunk. Police noted the spots and used DNA testing to establish the blood was Law's. A witness also overheard the men discuss how they would split a large sum of money.

But Vandermerwe and Chait had already slipped out of the country and gone back to South Africa.

Vandermerwe's father later recounted that his son returned home distraught. The elder Vandermerwe knew something terrible had happened but got few details from his nervous and evasive son.

"You will find out soon enough," Vandermerwe told his father, according to court documents. "Someone is missing and I am going to get the blame for it," he said. "And I've got no alibi. I will be traced here so easily I've got to leave the country."

Vandermerwe fled to America.

Law's body was never found. His fiancee, Tarn Phillips, kept up a determined campaign to keep the case open, and in 1996, her struggle was rewarded when South African police found and arrested Chait.

Chait committed suicide in jail shortly after a South African judge ordered him extradited to Britain to face trial. But the search for Vandermerwe went cold when he escaped to the United States in 1991.

Cautiously slipping in and out of aliases, the body builder slowly developed a new life for himself, first in New York, then on the glitzy fringes of Hollywood.

Vandermerwe married Christine in December, but his new life was on the verge of unraveling. His brother Graham Vandermerwe had joined him in Los Angeles and registered a car in his own name, unwittingly rekindling the search for his fugitive brother. Within a few months, an undercover policeman was knocking on Graham's door with a bogus flower delivery.

The officer spotted Neville in the apartment.

There is still one loose end: There are no plans to prosecute Peter Jenkins, the South African businessman who authorities suspect hired Vandermerwe and Chait to kill Law over a business dispute.

Police say the dispute developed when Law's attorney advised him to back out of allegedly shady dealings with Jenkins and reject a secrecy agreement Jenkins demanded he sign.

The case against Jenkins was dropped because of a lack of evidence to connect the businessman with the accused killers.

Sex potency drug double-edged sword

Rodie Morales Sent After me working with the LAPD and MIke Huntley

Green card fees going up

Immigrants say it will be hard to pay price that's almost doubling

By AMANDA COVARRUBIAS
The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — For Dalia Hernandez, a legal immigrant from Mexico who earns $300 a week selling baby clothes and dolls from a stall in the downtown garment district, every penny counts.

Come Tuesday, she and millions of other immigrants will have to count more pennies for the privilege of staying put — the fees for work permits and immigration cards are scheduled to jump as much as 50 percent.

Mrs. Hernandez's children need permanent residency cards.

"It's going to cost me almost $3,000 to pay for my two kids," she said. "You have to take pictures, get your fingerprints done — it's hard."

The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service is raising its fees for the first time in four years. All except 10 of the agency's 40 fees will be increased, generating about $1 million per day in new revenue. Last year, the charges raised $652 million.

"The fees that we've charged have not covered the costs for processing the forms," said Sharon Gavin, an INS spokeswoman.

The replacement cost for a residency permit — commonly known as a green card — is rising to $100 from $75.

The cost of becoming a legal permanent resident will rise from to $220 from $130.

"The greatest concern we have is this barrage of obstacles that keep getting thrown in the way of people who want to be naturalized and become full-fledged citizens of this country," said Juan Jose Gutierrez, director of One-Stop Immigration, which provides legal and educational services throughout California.

Fees for citizenship applications will be unchanged until Jan. 15, when they will jump to $225 from $95, or 137 percent.

INS Commissioner Doris Meissner promised not to raise that fee until a backlog of citizenship applications — there were 1.7 million cases earlier this year — was reduced.

Some people have had to wait as long as two years to become citizens.

Manuel Calles left his native El Salvador and has lived in the United States for 17 years. The father of five runs a fruit and vegetable stand from a pickup truck in the garment district.

He earns about $300 per week in the bustling district, where locals and tourists clog narrows streets and alleys in search of fashion bargains.

But the higher fees are still worth it to him.

"I can make more money here than in El Salvador," he said.

AP/Victoria Arocho

Dalia Hernandez of Los Angeles finishes a sale in her mini storefront in the garment district of Los Angeles on Friday. She is a legal immigrant from Mexico and is among millions who may feel the squeeze when the fees for work permits and immigration cards rise Tuesday.

> "The greatest concern we have is this barrage of obstacles that keep getting thrown in the way of people who want to ... become full-fledged citizens.
>
> – Juan Jose Gutierrez
> One-Stope Immigration director

Wanted: More Hispanics to work for feds

By ANDY CASTAGNOLA
Scripps Howard News Service

WASHINGTON — Hispanics are sparse in federal government offices, but a new 10-point federal plan released last week is designed to boost Latino representation.

The plan, announced by the federal Office of Personnel Management (OPM), sets up three targets: intensify recruitment efforts, forge partnerships with universities, and nurture Hispanic employees already in government. OPM will apply the plan in its own office as a model for other federal agencies.

Hispanic employment in government is low across the board. Out of 1.85 million federal employees — from astronauts to Smithsonian Institution curators — 6.2 percent are Hispanic. That percentage is only about half that of Latinos in the civilian workforce. No other minority group has a smaller percentage of federal versus civilian workers.

"We found that we do not yet look like America," OPM Director Janice Lachance said, "especially with respect to Hispanics in the civilian labor force."

To attract more Hispanics to the government labor force, OPM teamed up with other federal departments last year to set up 25 job information kiosks in universities with high Hispanic enrollment. Students can use the kiosks to track new job openings, internships and salaries.

This year, OPM will appoint Hispanic Employment Program managers to oversee recruitment. These managers will use Hispanic media and paid advertisements to spread the word on federal jobs.

Managers also will cultivate contacts at universities and high schools belonging to the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities. OPM hopes to prepare Hispanic students for government careers with internships and employment programs.

"We want qualified Hispanic personnel," said Rep. Solomon Ortiz, D-Texas, a member of the Congressional Hispanic Caucus.

"There are high qualified people out there," said Ciro Rodriguez, D-Texas.

The plan also turns to Hispanics already in the federal workforce to join mentoring and development programs that will ensure that OPM retains Hispanics who already are on the payroll.

Total funding for the plan is $295,000, including $25,000 for advertising and recruiting.

Manuel Oliverez, president of the National Association of Hispanic Federal Executives, welcomed the plan. Only about 2 percent of upper level federal employees are Hispanic, and other federal agencies need to replicate OPM's recruitment campaign, he said.

The National Association of Latino Elected and Appointed Officials shares some of the plan's objectives.

"Recruitment efforts clearly don't go as far as they need to go," said Director Ingrid Duran. "If Latinos get in at the table, they can influence policy decisions."

Lorenzo Lopez, director of Hispanic Affairs for the Republican National Committee has mixed reactions to the 10-point blueprint.

"The federal government can only offer so many jobs," he said. "We also need to look at getting Hispanics involved as entrepreneurs."

Weight trainer conceals past as a hitman

Seven-year search ends when double life is discovered

> Someone is missing and I am going to get the blame for it. ... I've got to leave the country.
>
> – Neville Vandermerwe

By P.H. FERGUSON
The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — He had a winning personality and movie star looks. But police say popular weight trainer and aspiring movie stuntman Graham Miller used an upscale, suburban health club to hide out from a past as a contract killer.

The seven-year search for the murderer of wealthy British businessman Simon Law ended last month when Neville Vandermerwe — Miller's real name — was arrested in the parking lot of the San Fernando Valley health club.

The 28-year-old South African immediately confessed to his double life, police say, and is being held without bail pending an extradition hearing.

In a town that thrives on images, Vandermerwe worked hard to stand out, even as he masked a dark past.

"Everyone liked him," said Rodie Morales, general manager of World Gym in Woodland Hills, where Vandermerwe worked. "He was a popular guy."

Friends, colleagues and neighbors expressed disbelief that the breezy, confident young man was wanted by police in three countries.

"He carried himself with confidence and authority," said neighbor Porter Jordan. "He could have been an actor."

In fact, Vandermerwe's entire life was something of an act.

He lived in a small apartment with his beautiful American wife, Christine Miller, a few miles east of the gym in a humdrum section of Tarzana.

Despite his middle-class existence, Vandermerwe dressed sharply and commuted in a BMW to the exclusive health club, where patrons pay personal trainers $75 an hour.

He told colleagues he was a veteran of the South African Army and had worked Hollywood stunt jobs. The Screen Actors Guild confirmed he was registered with the union but had no record that he ever held a movie job or even had an agent.

Vandermerwe's photogenic appearance apparently did bring him offers to work as a model, but he told friends he turned the jobs down.

Ms. Miller could not be reached for comment, but a close friend, speaking on the condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press that Ms. Miller had not known of her husband's past. "She is floored," the friend said.

Both Vandermerwe and his lawyer refused to comment.

Vandermerwe was 20 in April 1991 when he and friend Glen Chait traveled to Great Britain from their homes in a well-to-do Johannesburg suburb.

The two young men stood out as they drove through rural England in the stylish red Vauxhall Astra they had borrowed from South African friends in London.

In the small town of Elmsted, the pair asked several people for directions to the fashionable home of Simon Law, an accountant and violinist.

A suspicious neighbor jotted down the car's license plate when it pulled into Law's driveway. About the time Law was reported missing when he failed to appear at church choir practice, Vandermerwe and Chait were seen washing down the red coupe.

But they missed a few drops of blood on the rubber seal of the trunk. Police noted the spots and used DNA testing to establish the blood was Law's. A witness also overheard the men discuss how they would split a large sum of money.

But Vandermerwe and Chait had already slipped out of the country and gone back to South Africa.

Vandermerwe's father later recounted that his son returned home distraught. The elder Vandermerwe knew something terrible had happened but got few details from his nervous and evasive son.

"You will find out soon enough," Vandermerwe told his father, according to court documents. "Someone is missing and I am going to get the blame for it," he said. "And I've got no alibi. I will be traced here so easily I've got to leave the country."

Vandermerwe fled to America.

Law's body was never found. His fiancee, Tarn Phillips, kept up a determined campaign to keep the case open, and in 1996, her struggle was rewarded when South African police found and arrested Chait.

Chait committed suicide in jail shortly after a South African judge ordered him extradited to Britain to face trial. But the search for Vandermerwe went cold when he escaped to the United States in 1991.

Cautiously shipping in and out of aliases, the body builder slowly developed a new life for himself, first in New York, then on the glitzy fringes of Hollywood.

Vandermerwe married Christine in December, but his new life was on the verge of unraveling. His brother Graham Vandermerwe had joined him in Los Angeles and registered a car in his own name, unwittingly rekindling the search for his fugitive brother. Within a few months, an undercover policeman was knocking on Graham's door with a bogus flower delivery.

The officer spotted Neville in the apartment.

There is still one loose end: There are no plans to prosecute Peter Jenkins, the South African businessman who authorities suspect hired Vandermerwe and Chait to kill Law over a business dispute.

Police say the dispute developed when Law's attorney advised him to back out of allegedly shady dealings with Jenkins and reject a secrecy agreement Jenkins demanded he sign.

The case against Jenkins was dropped because of a lack of evidence to connect the businessman with the accused killers.

Advice

THE REV. BILLY GRAHAM
SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

Think of Down's Syndrome child as gift from God

Dear Dr. Graham: The doctor has just told us our baby has Down's Syndrome and will never be normal. How could God do this to us? We are so confused and disappointed. I don't know why I'm writing you, but you can understand why I feel the way I do, can't you? – Mrs. J.J.

Dear Mrs. J.J.: Almost any parent can understand the disappointment you feel. After all, you have looked forward to the joys of parenthood, and now it seems like you will never experience them.

My prayer is that you will come to look on this child as a gift, and not a burden and with God's help, you can. I don't know why God allowed this to happen to you. You can either meet this challenge with anger and bitterness or you can meet it with expectation and peace. Which way would be better, both for you and your child? I think you know the answer.

God can change your attitude, as you ask Him to help you see this child from His point of view Impress the neighbors.

Let us park in your driveway.

People know us from coast to coast as America's #1 carpet cleaner. Invite us to your home to get the deep quality cleaning and professional service that comes with over 48 years of experience. You'll be impressed with the results. Everyone else on the block will be impressed with your good taste.

STANLEY STEEMER. Makes you feel right at home.

3 ROOMS CLEANED
For Only... $75.00*

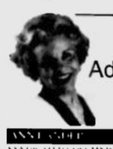
VISA

STANLEY STEEMER. 782-0898

*Extended & L-Shaped Rooms extra, residential only

Sex potency drug double-edged sword

Viagra bringing new life and new problems to some older couples



Advice

ANN LANDERS
SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing in response to the woman with the 62-year-old geezer husband. She has never been much interested in sex and is concerned about the renewed vigor that Viagra might give her husband. Perhaps this woman should be thankful her husband is alive at 62.

Many of us have lost our mates who were younger.

And she should be especially appreciative of his sexual prowess. A lot of men drop out in their 40s and 50s, and prostate trouble has thinned the ranks.

Your correspondent suggested there are thousands of woman like her who do not appreciate the pill responsible for giving renewed vigor to old coots who fizzled out years ago.

She may be right, but please tell her there are millions of us who would enjoy an old-fashioned roll in the hay with a real man like her old geezer. – Concord, Calif.

Dear Concord: While a great many woman are applauding the "miracle drug" that has given their flagging sex lives a second wind, I suspect an equal number see no reason for celebration.

Keep reading for another point of view.

From Livonia, Mich.: The new impotency pill is going to make life hell for middle-aged women.

My husband started taking it last month, and I am totally worn out. He says, "If it's too much for you, just say so. There are a couple of women at work who would be glad to take over."

How do you like that after 42 years of wedded bliss?

I am not a violent person, but it was all I could do to keep from smacking him.

Kansas City: After 30 years of marriage, my husband began to experience erectile dysfunction.

The doctor put him on Viagra and our sex life was wonderful again. Sounds good? Well, not exactly.

He now isn't sure he wants to be married.

Warn your readers that Viagra can affect the mind as well as what's a lot lower.

Nevada City, Calif.: I recently read that an 89-year-old man was charged with attempted murder for allegedly clubbing a 34-year-old woman with a crowbar after she rejected his Viagra-induced advances.

What kind of doctor prescribes Viagra for an 89-year-old fool like that?

If an 89-year-old woman had asked her doctor for something to enhance her sex life, he would have laughed her out of his office – or recommended a psychiatrist.

Bismarck, N.D.: If a man will just take the time to talk nicely to his woman, be sweet and tender and maybe buy her flowers and take her out to dinner when it isn't their anniversary, he wouldn't have to take pills.

Worcester, Mass.: I am a diabetic and have had several surgeries for a spinal cord injury.

For several years, I was impotent. My doctor suggested Viagra, and it's a miracle drug as far as I'm concerned.

I buy four pills for $40. They last two weeks. It's the best money I ever spent.

Los Angeles: Please warn your readers who are taking medicine containing nitrates for heart disease that Viagra could be fatal. I recently read that the Food and Drug Administration has reported 69 deaths which resulted from that "wonder drug," and it is especially dangerous to people who are on heart medication.

Baltimore, Md.: You told a Philadelphia reader that good sex depends on how a woman feels abut her man. Garbage! I thoroughly enjoyed sex with my first husband (now deceased), but my current husband doesn't have a clue. We had counseling, but it didn't help. After years of putting up with his bumbling, I was relieved when he became impotent.

Now, here comes Viagra, and he is sexually excited all over again. I've told him if he doesn't improve his technique, he can try out the Viagra on somebody else.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Nuggets and Doozies," has everything from the outrageously funny to the poignantly insightful. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $5.25 (this includes postage and handling) to: Nuggets, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. To find out more about Ann Landers and read her past columns, visit the Creators Syndicate web page at www.creators.com.

© 1998, Creators Syndicate

Yankees take 3-2 lead in ALCS. – 10B

Sports

MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1998

Staying in shape

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Workouts a yearlong job for athletes

WASHINGTON — Summer vacation? Not any more. Even in high school, workouts are becoming a yearlong job for competitive athletes.

Year-round physical training, long the norm in pro and college sports, is growing in secondary schools, where offseason time is a chance to get stronger and faster for the season.

"In my area, they all do it," said David P. LaRosa, football and strength coach at Cypress Lake High School, Ft. Myers, Fla. "In due time, it will spread out more and more. It will slowly increase around the country, just like mostly everything else does."

Just as in the pros and the colleges, high schools are hiring strength coaches to make sure the job is done right. Pressure to win will drive the movement toward year-round workouts, because athletes who do them will muscle the part-year athletes into the loss columns, the trainers believe.

"I think it definitely gives you a competitive edge," said Robbie Robinson of Mesquite High School, Mesquite, Texas, who is the 1998 high school strength and conditioning professional of the year of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

How much of a competitive edge is harder to quantify. Coaches prefer doing drills to doing research and tend to go with what they think works. They do not divide their teams in half and give one group a year-round schedule so they can see if this group does better than a group without the workouts.

However, the coaches believe they know success when they see it. "The individual who comes in here, by the time they graduate and go through our strength program for four year ne individual bench press probably goes up 100 pounds," LaRosa said.

As in the colleges and the pros, the program must be structured around the sport season. In football, for instance, the heavier weight work can come in the summer, before the athlete returns for preseason two-a-day practices. In season, the load is scaled back to maintenance levels, as coaches concentrate on game preparation and injury prevention. After the season, the cycle may return to heavier weights and more intense aerobic conditioning.

However, high school has some different problems — among them, what to do with multisport athletes, who are more common on the secondary level.

"A lot of them find themselves in a maintenance program all year round because they go from one sport to another," Robinson said. "They are not getting quite the intensity. It may be their heavier training may come in the summer."

However, he would not pressure a multisport athlete to specialize too soon. It's the player who seems cut out for a single event who could benefit more from the year-round conditioning's intensity, he said.

Another potential problem is burnout. To keep the athletes' spirits up, the programs have to be varied, LaRosa said. "You have to make the programs fun," he said. "We have games in which we pit individuals against each other — strength-type games like you see in the World's Strongest Man contest."

– Staying in shape runs each Monday in the Daily News.

Driver gets bonus win

■ Jarrett earns an extra $1 million in Winston 500 race

By JENNA HALVATGIS
The Associated Press

TALLADEGA, Ala. — As quickly as it looked like Mark Martin had a legitimate chance of catching Jeff Gordon in the points race, it was over, lost in one of the many wrecks Talladega Superspeedway is known for.

Martin entered Sunday's Winston 500 trailing Gordon by 174 points and seemed to have a shot at closing the gap. But while running sixth and watching Gordon struggle to stay on the lead lap, Martin got tangled up in an 11-car melee on lap 136.

And just like that his chance was gone. Martin wound up 22 laps off the pace and finished 34th.

Gordon, who fell as far back as 24th, worked his way back to contention and challenged race-winner Dale Jarrett at the end. His second-place finish virtually wrapped up his third title in four years.

"We were looking to maybe make a few points up, but this is what happens," Martin said. "The points race could be over, but it might not be. The same thing could happen to Jeff in a couple of races."

That's about the only way Martin can catch Gordon, who takes a 288-point lead into the Pepsi 400 on Saturday night in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Gordon, who 16 straight top-5 finishes, needs only to finish 16th or better in each of the remaining four races to win the title.

"I really want this championship to come down to pure fighting on the race track with competitiveness," Gordon said. "I hate to see something like that happen to Mark, but anything can happen to us in these final four races"

Lost in the points race was Jarrett's win, his third victory of the season. He held off a pack of challengers over the last 13 laps to get the win and pick up a $1 million bonus.

As an eight-car pack battled behind him, Jarrett kept his Ford Taurus out front on the 2.66-mile trioval.

His Robert Yates Racing entry averaged 159.317 mph in the race slowed by just four cautions for 20 laps. He beat Gordon to the finish line by 0.14-seconds — about three car-lengths.

He won a total of $1,110,125, thanks to the No Bull 5 bonus from series sponsor Winston. Jarrett was one of five drivers — the top finishers in the Southern 500 — eligible for the bonus. Gordon won the bonus at both Indianapolis in July and Darlington, S.C., in September.

"I've been in the front trying to chase some of these guys and tried all different scenarios to win and hadn't accomplished that," Jarrett said.

"But I figured my best chance of winning was to go out front and make them pass me."

Jarrett took the lead on the 176th of 188 laps.

AP/Dave Martin

Dale Jarrett of Hickory, N.C., celebrates in victory lane after Sunday's Winston 500 at Talladega Superspeedway in Talladega, Ala. Jarrett held off a pack of challengers during the last 13 laps to get the win and pick up a $1 million bonus.

Braves stay alive in series

■ Atlanta regains momentum with grand slam in win

By BERNIE WILSON
The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO — With a mighty grand slam from Andres Galarraga, the Atlanta Braves stayed alive in the NL championship series.

The Braves weren't going anywhere because they hadn't solved San Diego's pitching, and would have gone home if they hadn't turned it around so dramatically with Sunday night's 8-3 victory over the Padres.

San Diego still has a 3-1 series edge going into tonight's Game 5, but the Braves have their Big Three pitchers coming around again, starting with John Smoltz tonight. He'll face Andy Ashby in a rematch of Game 1, won by the Padres 3-2 in 10 innings.

And they can thank the Big Cat for the momentum swing. He was the only Atlanta batter to rediscover his swing, but his performance was by far the most dramatic.

Facing elimination and trailing in the seventh inning, the Braves rallied for six runs, capped by Galarraga's 459-foot grand slam to left-center off Dan Miceli.

Galarraga has hit 332 homers in 13-plus big league seasons, but none bigger than this one.

"It's probably the best, keeping the team alive, to give more emotion for (Monday), too," he said.

The Braves will need it. No team has ever come back from a 3-0 deficit in the playoffs.

Then again, this is the Team of the 90s, which led the league with 106 victories and reached the postseason for the seventh straight time.

"We didn't feel like a team that was down 3-0," said left-hander Denny Neagle, who gave the Braves a good effort. "Everybody feels confident right now. I don't think we feel like a team that is down 3-1."

Manager Bobby Cox practically predicted before the game that Galarraga — who had zero RBIs in the series until his slam — would rediscover his power.

"I just thought the odds were with us (Sunday) on his bat," Cox said. "He's like everybody else. He can get cold for four or five days, and then he can get hot and carry you. It had to happen sometime, and boy, it was a big one (Sunday)."

Even the Padres knew it wouldn't be that easy to sweep the Braves, and they've got one more chance to do it before the loud home fans.

"We thought we had it," Padres postseason hero Jim Leyritz said. "But we still feel good. It would have been nice to sweep, but we're talking the Atlanta Braves and it's not easy to sweep them."

After Leyritz hit a solo homer off Neagle in the sixth that put the Padres ahead 3-2, Javy Lopez tied it with a leadoff home run in the seventh off loser Joey Hamilton, who was chased by Andruw Jones' single.

The Braves went on to load the bases against Randy Myers before Galarraga, who had just one single in his 12 previous at-bats in the series, unloaded against Miceli.

The Big Cat stood at home plate and watched the ball sail into the seats in left-center, hushing the crowd of 65,042 that had come to celebrate.

AP/Denis Poroy

Atlanta's Andres Galarraga watches his grand slam clear the wall in an 8-3 win over San Diego in game 4 of the NLCS on Sunday.

"You go 0-for-2, 0-for-3, you start swinging at bad pitches. I decided to be more patient and I think it worked (Sunday)," Galarraga said.

Ozzie Guillen, who started because Cox thought he could provide an offensive spark, was on third base after his go-ahead single. He turned to watch Galarraga's shot and threw his hands in the air as he headed for home.

"I think I was more happy for the team," Guillen said. "Finally we scored more runs. We're going to face a lot of tough pitchers."

Atlanta, batting just .200 in the first three games, finished with 12 hits off five pitchers.

Galarraga hit 44 homers this year, but only two in September and none in October until Sunday.

Leyritz's one-out homer off Neagle put the Padres ahead. But Lopez, who hadn't driven in a run in the previous three games, hit Hamilton's first pitch of the seventh over the right-field fence.

Atlanta's Dennis Martinez, 43, got the final out in the sixth with a runner on second to get the win.

Oilers hold on for 12-8 victory

■ Tennessee gets past mistakes to snap losing streak

By DAVID GINSBURG
The Associated Press

BALTIMORE — The Tennessee Oilers would have preferred an inspired, flawless performance in a game they desperately needed to win.

Tennessee did beat Baltimore 12-8 Sunday, snapping a three-game losing streak. Yet the victory can be attributed mainly to a shoddy effort by the Ravens and the Oilers' ability to overcome their own mistakes.

The Oilers (2-3) were penalized 13 times for 141 yards and scored the game's lone touchdown on a broken play. Tennessee was 4-for-16 on third down and could muster only two field goals in the final 46 minutes.

"The bottom line is that we won. I don't even want to think about the alternative, based on the way we played," Oilers coach Jeff Fisher said.

The Ravens (2-3) were even worse, going 1-for-15 on third down and mustering a team-record low 46 yards on the ground. Even punting became an adventure for Baltimore, as Harper LeBel sent five bad snaps to punter Kyle Richardson.

Ravens running back Priest Holmes, who ran for 173 yards in his starting debut against Cincinnati two weeks earlier, gained 29 yards on 14 carries.

"Offensively, we never got into synch," Baltimore coach Ted Marchibroda said.

"We just couldn't totally find ourselves and we couldn't get any drives going. I think third down hurt us as much as anything."

Eddie George ran for 121 yards and quarterback Steve McNair had a 40-yard touchdown run for the Oilers. But that was the extent of Tennessee's offense.

Third for history

■ Horse has one more chance to reach $10 million

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Skip Away needs a Classic finish of at least third place to become the first racehorse to earn $10 million.

Chances seem good that he will get a shot at the Breeders' Cup Classic despite a right-front ankle injury sustained while having his nine-race winning streak snapped Saturday in the Jockey Club Gold Cup.

The Breeders' Cup Classic on Nov. 7 at Churchill Downs will be worth at least $4 million and if it is third place will be worth $480,000. Third place in the Gold Cup was worth $130,000 and boosted Skip Away's earnings to $9,626,360.

"I'm 95 percent sure we'll run in the Breeders' Cup," trainer Sonny Hine said Sunday. "The ankle blew up three or four times as big as it was and there was a lot of heat and inflammation, but he's sound."

The Classic would be Skip Away's last chance to pass Cigar's record of $9,999,815 before he is retired to stud.

IN SPORTS

Montreal manager Alou turns down Dodgers to stay with Expos.
Page 4

Quarterbacks get even with old teams in NFL action Sunday.
Page 5

COMING UP
Coverage of girls' high school soccer.

Fourth quarter

A quick take on the world of sports

Colbert wins Transamerica: Jim Colbert shot a 5-under-par 67 to win the The Transamerica by one stroke over Senior PGA Tour rookie David Lundstrom.

Colbert, who won for the first time since successful prostate cancer surgery in July 1997, also moved ahead of Lee Trevino and became the leading money winner in the entire history of the senior tour.

Lundstrom (69) finished at 10-under 206 — one stroke ahead of Jay Sigel (70), Bruce Summerhays (64), Leonard Thompson (68) and Jose Maria Canizares (68).

Robbins victorious in LPGA: Kelly Robbins closed with a 2-under-par 70 on Sunday to win the LPGA Tournament of Champions. Sunday marked her first victory since the opening event of this year's LPGA season.

Robbins finished the tournament with a 12-under 276 total, four shots better than runner-up Juli Inkster (69).

Sherri Steinhauer (71) was at 281, followed by defending champion Annika Sorenstam (70) at 283.

Se Ri Pak finished with a 72 and was at even par.

Offer depends on success: The price of Cablevision's proposed offer for the New York Yankees depends on the team's success this October, The New York Times reported today.

Cablevision, which owns the television rights to Yankees games under a $486 million, 12-year contract that expires after the 2000 season, has offered to buy the team and let George Steinbrenner remain in charge, perhaps for several years, perhaps as long as he wants.

Most reports say a deal would be worth between $600 million and $650 million.

Abraham in recovery: South Carolina defensive end John Abraham was hospitalized in good condition Sunday and recovering from a neck sprain he suffered in Saturday's 33-28 loss against Kentucky.

Abraham expects to return to the Gamecocks' roster, but probably not in time to face Arkansas this weekend.

"He was in great spirits," said coach Brad Scott, who talked with Abraham by telephone Sunday morning from University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington. "He felt very relaxed, very comfortable there."

Reaching us

You can reach the Daily News sports department at 783-3238.

Letters can be sent to the Sports editor at P.O. Box 90012, Bowling Green, Ky. 42102 or brought to 813 College St.

•••

Our fax number is 783-3237.

•••

Our e-mail address is dnews@bgn.mindspring.com

•Fourth Quarter is compiled from staff and wire articles.

www.KevinPerelmanTarget.com

Data being organized online for the masses: Cloud.KevinPerelmanTarget.com

There is a lot more data, but it is difficult to organize by myself. If necessary, Request, and I can provide